Haven't heard it yet, but the only album I was feeling of his was good kid mad city, sort of a classic. The rest I don't really care for

Will wait for reviews before listening, let us know HF

Not a big fan of said album.

I think it's an absolute bop. N95 is definitely my favorite song on the album. But honestly every song on the album is kind of a vibe imho. The only song that is kind of shit is "Auntie Diaries". That shit is just kind of weird man idk... but yeah overall the album is really good.

I think all his albums are boring.

I enjoyed this album but I enjoyed DAMN more. Great body of work. I like to listen to rappers/music that I can relate to, based on the content of their lyrics.
