Thread: Numerous DeFi Websites Hijacked Due to Godaddy Exploit/Hack

SUI-3183372 - May 13, 2022, 10:07 pm

There's a lot of speculation going on but it seems like Godaddy is the common denominator in the case of numerous DeFi websites being Hijacked. Be wary of using DeFi applications right now while there's potential for compromise.

Etherscan possibly affected: <https://twitter.com/sandeepnailwal/status/1525325868561727489>

Edit: Etherscan apparently due to a 3rd party module:

SpiritSwap compromised: https://twitter.com/Spirit_Swap/status/1525216379041116160

I think the Etherscan one along with couple other sites were affected by malicious attack being spread via the ads network they use.

Fucking GoDaddy! Always being crap for security. Worst registrar and even worse host.

Etherscan got hacked as well, metamask wallets got drained if you connected there + signed up a contract. They did a BAYC giveaway or something lmfao.
