Hey there,

This may be well-known for many, not for others. If you don't know about Golden-Farm, please read under for some explanations.

<https://golden-farm.biz/?en=Kehoru>

Golden-Farm is a website that you can see as some sort of minigame. Basically, all you have to do is buy eggs, which you will have to store in your warehouse at the rate of your choice; each day, month, year; it's up to you; and sell them in exchange of gold coins and gold bars.

Gold coins are used to buy more eggs, allowing you to get even more gold coins and gold bars. Gold bars can be exchanged for real money by withdrawing them. $1 is about 8000 gold bars.

As I said on the thread, this method does require a bit of investment. It's not mandatory, but without investment, you'd basically take ages to be able to withdraw at least $5 per month.

I personally have invested around $150 in a few months, and as of today, I'm able to withdraw about $250 to $300 per month. No need to be good at maths to understand how profitable it can be.

Head over to the registration page and fill up the necessary informations.

Once you've made your account, follow the little guide implemented on the website. You'll learn most of what you have to know.

Once it's done, head over to the Daily bonus tab on the left and get your first daily bonus, which will give you a random amount of gold coins (up to 100). Now, go back to the Buy birds page and buy some Green and Beige birds to begin.

Every day or so, you'll have to log in back to the website and check your warehouse; you'll need to collect the laid eggs and sell them via the Eggs selling tab on the left.

This can be extremely slow to get your first bucks, unless you start investing via the Add funds section, which I highly recommend. You can do this two ways depending on your budget:

- If you don't have much money to invest yet, do it slowly like every week or every two weeks; something like $20 each time or more if you can afford it.
  - If you can spend more money right away, I'd suggest you to invest around $50 to $100 right away.
- Of course, the more you invest, the more you'll earn in the near future.

I'd suggest you to purchase gold coins with either Payeer or Bitcoin, these are the ones I use and I've never had any issue with both of these payment methods.

This is my account right now, after having playing for a few months and having withdrawn a few hundred bucks:

As you can see, there are plenty of ways to withdraw your money; Payeer, Paypal, Skrill, VISA, bitcoin, and so on. (check the image above)

One last thing you need to know: Crystals.

You will need to refer some friends of yours (or/and random people) to earn them, which will allow you to withdraw your money. It might seem complicated.. but it's really not. Just edit this PDF, for example, and replace the link with your own referral link (found in the My referrals tab) or use the built-in Referral Promotion system, which made me gain dozens and dozens of referrals without doing much besides investing a little more.

That's it! Keep checking your warehouse every day, week or so; collect them, sell them and withdraw your money. In a few months, if not less, I can guarantee you'll start earning profits over your initial investments. I'm calling this method easy since you don't need to know any technical term, no need to scam anyone, to trade, to analyze bets or anything; it's fully semi-pilot or even autopilot if you don't consider spending up to 30s per week or so to be an actual effort.

Good luck!
