Thread: Looking for a partner for a bitcoin gambling website

XRated - May 18, 2022, 10:35 am

Looking to find a partner who can be my tech / right hand man with a website I am working on. Someone coded me this from scratch in PHP,

My knowledge on websites/coding is slim to none, the concept/future of the site could be an extremely profitable outcome.

Looking for someone who is more than just skilled at coding.

Thanks

Hi again, I can help you with this. My speciality is PHP.

I'm currently working with a friend also opening a crypto casino sort of like roobet. We are using a base source for the website but the games and other security stuff will all be custom coded by me and him. We have connections in Florida and know good friends of steveWillDoIt which we are meeting this summer to talk about the project.

Wish you the best of luck, it's a hard path but it's possible. Take a good 15k into consideration for setting everything up, license etc.
