I like the community here, so I thought I would give back by offering a simple service that not everybody can have access to. I've been collecting these DB's for research/educational purposes for quite a few years now. Please view the list below and follow the format when sending me a private message.

Terms:

- The information that you request will ONLY be used for educational/research purposes
- I do not claim any responsibility with what you do with the information you requested. I am simply offering access to public information

Rules/Suggestions:

- Send me a private message titled "Information Request"
- In the message, copy and paste the Request Template and fill it out according to what you want
- Feel free to send multiple requests, just please separate by a comma (,) or slash (/)
- Please try keeping it organized so I can send you organized information back
- Please make sure to post on the thread after I send you information, so I can try to help as many people as I can
