Thread: Spoofing caller ID

chr1s_ - May 25, 2022, 7:00 am

Does anyone know where I can spoof caller ID?I've tried way too many and none of them work in my country

I know it's possible as someone has been able to do it previously in my country but I haven't been able to find one

Ofc i'm willing to pay also, im not looking specifically for a free service

Have you tried Google Talk?

I wouldn't suggest paying for this, you should be able to find how to do it for free.

I think i saw a free website / service here on HF. Use the search function.

are you sure? i was able to pay for a google voice account (i used to be able to usehangouts to do it for free but they since discontinued that service) but that was just for calling American numbers, not numbers in my home country + they couldnt even be spoofed as the accounts i bought had an assigned number, so no luck there.

ive been searching literally everywhere and either my country is not supported or the platforms dont provide caller id spoofing searched for it but didnt have any luck. to be clear im looking to be able to call with a spoofed caller id, not just text. i know some are offering texting services here

Tbh, I'm not sure. I just remember doing this for free on a site I didn't have to sign up on, that was like 10 years ago though.

haha fair. i will continue looking for this, i just know its possible because someone has previously done it to some friends of mine, spoofing the numbers of people they know and messing with them :)

Hi together,

Yes, you can spoof your phone number, but not that way. You can use online services or an exploit.

Or go the hard way and do the following:

What you need is a HackRF One or similar, an antenna for the right use case.

After this, we have multiple options. You can try the way to use SDR as an IMSI catcher. Get all information and use the Number you intercepted through the IMSI catcher.

A second Method is directly spoof the number with the HackRF, but the Victim must depend on the antenna 10 m - 2 km area.

With SDR you can send also normal SMS and also silent SMS as an Example to get the Signal back and catch the IMEI / IMSI and the Geo Location, in a Triangle of cell phone tower.

There are much more possibilities. Message me if you want more information and maybe documentations and tutorials.

Here is an Example with Kali for SMS

Can you help me to spoof calls ?

noidontswipe - December 18, 2022, 6:32 pm

im looking for one too, if anyone knows where please dm me.

neil5050 - December 27, 2022, 9:14 am

I can do it too. I am using a free one too. If you need any help

Exgroyper - December 29, 2022, 1:49 am

Literally google it. There are like 5 services. Start around 5-6$ for like 20-50 calls. Work good. Don't pay for information it is free.

i appreciate the reply but my issue is that these services typically don't work for my country. infact, there is no option for it
