Basilisk - May 29, 2022, 3:10 pm

Yeah just leave it in crypto pretty much, can't think of anything I would spend the money on right now.

No Bra - May 29, 2022, 3:14 pm

I will call bank, to know if someone mistakenly transfer or deposit it to my account.

Then i will refund it, cos I'm not expecting it.

shmatka - May 29, 2022, 3:54 pm

Envy - May 29, 2022, 4:12 pm

Pay off my what debts I have left and spend the rest on a rental property for an storefront office in a large mountain-ish shopping mall area we have here.

Think that'd be great move for my business.

Livewire - May 29, 2022, 4:27 pm

Depends if it's legit or not.

Either way I'm transferring it out.

Bluffer - May 29, 2022, 4:47 pm

Buying a Benelli m4 tactical in titanium and spending the rest on golf trips.

The Pact - May 30, 2022, 6:42 pm

I've had so much more than that hit my bank account a few times and all I ever did with it was put it on the mortgage.

Sulphur p - May 30, 2022, 8:03 pm

What's the least I could spend?

???? - May 30, 2022, 9:17 pm

Buy gold. Gold will save you from inflation. I don't know if crypto is going to go back up.

Rahul007rhp - May 30, 2022, 10:01 pm

Buy BTC and retire
Enjoy the life

Prince™ - May 30, 2022, 10:02 pm

Buy BTC and forget it for another 5 years.

Or buy Gold as well. Gold has been poppin off lately real good huh?

Bluntmeh - May 30, 2022, 10:09 pm

I would drop 8,000 into various investments. Then the rest I would use for a small vacation.

Drugs and a bag for my girlfriend. Lol or pay for half a four year degree or move to Mexico.

Vip?r - May 31, 2022, 1:10 am

Buy five or six keyboards

skull - May 31, 2022, 1:25 am

Would probably just put it in my savings account. In this economy it's always nice to have a little extra.

Same. I would probably save it for my future house.

SIM-5033784 - May 31, 2022, 6:33 am

Call my bank and ask where the money came from. If it's a deposit in error you can be forced to return the money. People have been sentenced to jail or prison for larger amounts when they spent the money and then couldn't pay back. The best thing is to put it in a savings account while the logistics are worked out.

bevc - May 31, 2022, 6:37 am

Assuming the cash is legitimately mine, I'd either put it on the mortgage, or in a savings account, and some to charity.

Falchion - May 31, 2022, 6:52 am

I will go on on vacation far away

TB12GOAT - May 31, 2022, 2:57 pm

Purchase more inventory for a recently started business. 10k would be HUGE.

Nullusia - June 1, 2022, 1:38 pm

Whack it all out on crypto, probably 70% bitcoin 30% alts

TikTokCash - June 1, 2022, 1:44 pm

I would take it out and hide it somewhere in my house. 10k cash sounds like good security money.

Migos - June 1, 2022, 1:48 pm

Personally if you just recieved 10k and its more then you have in your bank you should put 30% in cash not touched 30% in investment ,40% get the car.

Jake Johnson - June 3, 2022, 12:41 pm

I would most likely just throw it in my savings account as I don't have any debts I need to pay off at the moment and nothing that I need to buy that's quite costly.

Exactly! I'm smart with my money for the most part. I don't really spend money unless I truly have to or really want something that I know I will use.

Even with going out on the weekends with friends that adds up fast when you are going out every Friday and Saturday but I've even strategized that where I don't spend as much money as some of my friends do when out. Now once in a while it's always fun to treat yourself but not every single weekend lol.

SIM-5097301 - June 4, 2022, 4:52 pm

I would put some into crypto & set some I'm savings besides that maybe take a little to splurge on family

source - June 4, 2022, 4:58 pm

Thats a very healthy and responsible perspective on what should and shouldn't be done for the future you! I hope it all pans out and blossoms into a beautiful life for you.

Well, if I noticed that 10k would suddenly appear on my account, I would first try to find out where the money is coming from and why it went to my account.

Money does not fall from the sky in particular in such large amounts???

anoncrab - June 7, 2022, 1:10 am

Probably buy a new car, doesn't have to be a super nice one just one that gets the job done. Then I'd invest some in crypto, and probably save the rest for later use.

obiteh56drzz - June 7, 2022, 2:07 am

I will invest in crypto and get a nice used car for my daily routines :)

Michael - June 7, 2022, 2:59 am

Perhaps buy some crypto, can't do really much else with it, it's too little to invest in real estate. Or maybe have a nice holiday with it.

rihosedemon - June 7, 2022, 3:18 am

I would stop working and just studying for a year. Knowledge will make me much more money.

litocapol - June 7, 2022, 3:53 am buy chinese stocks and dividend stocks do not work! just save dividend stocks! retire at 40

vegetajgd - June 10, 2022, 1:35 am

This will be the first time in my life i would know what to do with it, As i have already have plans :D :D

Investment in specific projects in crypto, Keeping some cash in stable coins(currently only one i feel is safer i BUSD).

Keeping some emergency cash in the bank and then using the rest for daily or leisure activities.

I have learned when you get the money. First divide it in to investments and savings then use the rest for leisure and not the other way around.
