Thread: New Posts For Subscribed Sections

Two features I have been using frequently are the new posts feature and subscriber features. Because I am lazy, I would love to be able to have the subscribe to sections linked to filter the 'new posts' button by that. It be easier/faster to skim recent threads in all the sections.

Also PSA, the comrade system to find their posts is a nice feature. Has anyone else notice comrades randomly being removed entirely? (cc Komodo)

If i understood that correctly, you want the "New Posts page" to filter to only specific sections/sub forums you want to follow right?

If so, then it's already thing. Have you considered using "Favorites" feature?

Go to the bottom of this page: <https://hackforums.net/usercp.php?action=options>
Add all the subforums you want to follow, then click on the ? button next to the "New Posts" button. You will find all the latests posts/threads from only the sections you want.

Ah! I was not aware of what that feature was!

Love not having to see marketing threads anymore.
Thanks.

Dude for real. Me too. I bet there is a bug. We do a few tasks related to Comrades and I suspect one of them is an issue. Fuck, gonna have to review that code now because for the longest time I been wondering if my Comrades were removing me but then they'd say they weren't. I actually wonder if there is something default in MyBB that might be doing it.

Anyways, gonna try to take a peek at a few functions to see if I notice anything obvious.
