Thread: Starting with cpa

rihosedemon - June 8, 2022, 12:24 am

I just started messing with cpa my niche will provide valuable information i have already contacted people to get hq landing page. I have found a lot of places with traffic based on my niche. As i am limited to budget with the first opportunity i will use facebook or google ads too. So i have question i am located in Greece is it possible to promote USA or other countries offers? Lastly i will appreciate any tip given.

I got in really late by the time it was already "dead", I remember making upwards of 300$ a day for 10 days. Worth a shot to check if there is still some.

Other than that of course you can promote US offers, just make sure to set location to US on Facebook Ads and make sure your landing page doesnt look too good to be true cause it might get rejected by FB ads. Dont iframe anything and shit like that, also dont collect emails on front page either.

I just signed up for maxbounty seems difficult to get in. When you say landing page shouldn't be too good why not? I don't have much knowledge about Facebook ads i guess that will be the hardest part.

You cant make it "obvious" nor use scripts on the landing page if you want to promote via FB.

I will be using a legit method . So everything will be working properly i will not try to scam people.
