What will HF be like in 2050?

Rahul007rhp - June 10, 2022, 6:45 am

I have lots of responsibility on my shoulders , will ill be successful enough to complete them all ?

Like buying a house , getting married xD

Currently as per my current salary package it would take atleast 11 years to get a small roof over my head.

Perplex - June 10, 2022, 6:51 am

Will shiba inu ever rise to take over bitcoin in price per coin? And if yes, when? Im getting in

~ Ah, yes. The site remains as it is with a different design, though, since the invention of thought streaming, many forums have upgraded to this new standard of communication, though HF leaves it optional. Leadership has been turned over to a new owner, while omni is still alive, he just no longer manages the site. ~

~ I see a man climbing a great mountain, it appears he makes it to the top as well. Funny thing about climbing a mountain is, well, you ever been snowboarding or skiing? If you have you'll know that the longer the climb up, the longer the fun coming down. ~

~ It will rise again, but a Doge will never be more great than a Bitcoin.

As to when it will rise though, tomorrow a Doge will be worth more than a Doge today. This is for certain~

You will be breathing but you may want to quit any bad habits. The ball has spoken.

In the future you will be more decisive. I can definitely see you made the right choices as well.

There is ETH in the future, people still use it... more than Dogecoin :(. Have patience and don't expect to be rich because of it.

I'm very sorry for your loss, I can relate to this. These fortunes are obviously just for gags so please don't take 'em seriously....that being said....

~I see a great amount of wisdom and strength being built. I see you doing the best you can.~

Hmmm. I'd rather not say, but just remember it's always more beneficial to remain calm in the most stressful of situations.
