

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: - B Ratings from scammers should be removed

Undert@ker - June 13, 2022, 2:33 pm

If you have a contract with a scammer. then you pay them that's your side of the contract complete. if you have proof that you have sent your payment they should not be able to give you a bad - B Rating for disputing there scam this can make members afraid to report or dispute scammers. then even after the scammers are banned the dispute gets left open for over 2 years now and the bad - B Rating is never removed.

For people like me that like to keep a clean name and rep exit scammers should not be able to do this. or if you could even add the option that if a person who has left a - B is banned that we can have it removed. i have seen a few members affected from this

Migos - June 13, 2022, 2:39 pm

(Jun 13, 2022 02:33 PM)Undertak3r Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) If you have a contract with a scammer. then you pay them that's your side of the contract complete. if you have proof that you have sent your payment they should not be able to give you a bad - B Rating for disputing there scam this can make members afraid to report or dispute scammers. then even after the scammers are banned the dispute gets left open for over 2 years now and the bad - B Rating is never removed.

For people like me that like to keep a clean name and rep exit scammers should not be able to do this. or if you could even add the option that if a person who has left a - B is banned that we can have it removed. i have seen a few members affected from this

Interesting i wonder if something happens if its from someone who us exiled.

Omniscient - June 13, 2022, 4:25 pm

Current policy will stand.