Thread: What was the best year/\(s\) of your life? The worst?

Mines is probably 18-21~ The years I spent in university and the people I met I don't think can be topped.

Worst wasn't actually the pandemic years, I actually enjoyed the peace. The worst was probably around 23~, where I was staying alone and finishing my qualification - the solitude got to me after a while.

Lets make sure the best is yet to come

The last 6 years have been rocky for me. This year has been the best least drama filled year I've had since

Honestly, I'm still fairly young so I don't know if I have had my "best years" right now. Personally, I think I might be living them right now as I am just enjoying life to the fullest right now while finishing my second degree.

Man it is really tough. Like there is no year which did have its share of problems and there is no year which did not have its share of Happiness. LOL i know not much of an answer but this is what i got :D

Probably peaked around 2015 or so.

Though I still have a full life ahead of me. Maybe things will change?

MindkcuF - June 13, 2022, 8:08 pm

Since turning 18 it's been pretty much a roller coaster or huge downs and ups occasionally. Hopefully the best is yet to come

Ultras - June 13, 2022, 8:10 pm

Had a peak at 15 ish and another at 21 ish, so hopefully I'll hit another peak soon

Well, I would probably say the best year was 2021 and the worst year would be 2022 if not 2018.

2018, what an interesting year that was. I can relate to that being the worst.

Best would probably be 2013~ when I had no worries and did everything for fun.

Oh yeah, pretty hard to rank childhood days with each other because there was no worry in the world. Just playing games/sports, hanging out with friends, going to school and watching movies/shows.

For real, those care free days were days at the time you just didn't know you'd look back on and wish for again.

And all the friends we had then, all 2000+ days offline on my old Xbox :(

For real, imagine one day you logged on and invited one of those online friends to a game, not knowing it was the last time you'd ever play together.

This gets into my feels every time I think about it, I considered some of these people my best friend at the time.. Sad to think about, hope everyone I knew is doing well in life and not chasing a award goal at 5 AM ?

Ironically, my best years weren't the ones when I did lot of parties and had lot of fun. I used to do lot of drugs, used to go out often, in nightclubs, etc.

I would say that my best years are now. Now I'm building my career, enjoying my work, earning reasonable money for this, and will earn even more in the future.

I hear that, sometimes peace and settlement is actually true happiness to the soul
