

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Blog Post - HTML/CSS Themes

Hydra - June 17, 2022, 4:34 pm

Wanted to get the communities input on themes for blog posts. We all know about thread designs and how designers use images to create creative and unique threads. Well, with Blogs, it changes the game because it supports HTML/CSS. I was thinking of making a handful of themes to share with the community but only if people would be interested in using them. Also, if there's enough interest, what type of themes would you like to see?

An example would be my latest blog. It implements lightbox/thumbnail preview images, unique numbered lists, styled links and a table of contents.

View the blog here.

Let me know what you think of the idea and what kind of themes you'd like to see. There are limitations to the themes, including the inability to use Javascript (huge security risk). I would host the CSS on my own server for you to use freely by either linking to it or downloading it and hosting it yourself. You can also modify it if you'd like to.

vegetajgd - June 17, 2022, 9:23 pm

(Jun 17, 2022 04:34 PM)Hydra Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Wanted to get the communities input on themes for blog posts. We all know about thread designs and how designers use images to create creative and unique threads. Well, with Blogs, it changes the game because it supports HTML/CSS. I was thinking of making a handful of themes to share with the community but only if people would be interested in using them. Also, if there's enough interest, what type of themes would you like to see?

An example would be my latest blog. It implements lightbox/thumbnail preview images, unique numbered lists, styled links and a table of contents.

View the blog here.

Let me know what you think of the idea and what kind of themes you'd like to see. There are limitations to the themes, including the inability to use Javascript (huge security risk). I would host the CSS on my own server for you to use freely by either linking to it or downloading it and hosting it yourself. You can also modify it if you'd like to.

That right there is an excellent blog post. Did not had to time to go through everything but from whatever i did looks good. Keep up the good work Man.

Azythum - June 18, 2022, 12:41 am

I don't think to blog on HF anytime soon, but looks good. Good job !

Upgrader - June 18, 2022, 9:09 pm

Impressive post, the layout is clean. Haven't seen many blogs but I like it!