Thread: Modern Warfare 2 \(2022\)

Lynx - June 26, 2022, 6:30 am

Two weeks ago the trailer for MW2 has been released.

The game will feature a new Escape from Tarkov styled gamemode called DMZ.

Activision is also reworking the whole SBMM aspect of the game (

<https://www.dexerto.com/call-of-duty/modern-warfare-2-leaker-claims-massive-sbmm-changes-are-coming-1829852/>)

Release date: October 28, 2022

Available on PS4, PS5, Xbox One, Xbox Series X/S, and PC via Battle.net and Steam

Priced at 69.99 usd on battle.NET

Will you be playing this? I definitely will fellas.

Bakin - June 26, 2022, 6:35 am

Quick buy, will definitely be buying. I think I'll be enjoying this.

I'll definitely be playing some of those classic gamemodes.

The full game, I don't enjoy Warzone like I used to but I'll definitely give the new one a shot to see if anything changed.

Yeah MW2 was one of my favourites.

I'm glad they'll be releasing it on Steam as well this time around. Just wonder how it'll work with the COD points.

Upgrader - June 26, 2022, 9:38 am

Now the only question -- will they have a working anticheat?

Also interested in their approach with this.

Depends if they improve it... You'll always have passive cheats like always-on uav's and general esp's.

Blatant aimbotting might still be there but not in the bought version (non-warzone).

Also since it will be on steam so it might have ricochet and steams anti-cheat.

As long as retards like me will buy it.

Also, they do change some things but come on... You can't change a game like cod too much.

Steams anticheat (VAC) is useless, it detects public github open source cheats and that's about the extent of it; cheats for a $70 game will have proper AC bypass, tarkov itself struggles with this but by far the worst example of a cheater run game is MW19, of course being F2P warzone doesn't help but plenty of free cheats are going undetected for weeks or even months.

Oh it's a sequel

Considering MW was one of their best franchises, I'd say they'll milk it for as long as they can.

At the end of the day, profit margins and sales statistics are the priorities.

This game will most likely have VAC bans, but it is going to have its own anti-cheat like any other big multiplayer game out there. BattlEye doesn't seem too bad, however Ricochet was a major let down.

Tizen - June 27, 2022, 8:31 am

I was a die hard fan of all the call of duties, up until the last Modern Warfare (2019), where they sacrificed ping over sbmm. Since then I haven't bought any of the latest titles. I'll be hesitate to buy this time around too; until I know ping is king again.

TBH, SBMM is pretty much non-existent if you play in a party. My friends and I would always pub-stomp for majority of our games. We'll get the odd game here or there where we would get steam-rolled but other than that it's pretty non-existent. However when you play solo that's a different story.

Haven't played COD since MW3 but this looks really cool. I may actually buy it!

DemonAsylum - July 21, 2022, 9:43 am

For the longest time I was a big lover of Call of Duty and it was the main game I'd play. The last couple of years, especially this past one though, that has changed drastically. Cold War wasn't a bad game imo, but I still only found myself playing it here and there at most a few weeks after release. I could never do so for too long either. Vanguard this past year on the other hand was an absolute crap shoot imo and I had no interest in playing it. I think it was maybe 1-2 weeks I played and then I uninstalled due to lack of interest. I'm also pretty sure that's the first time I've done such a thing with a COD game short of the year Infinite Warfare came out. While I wasn't a big fan of that game either, my lack of playing it was more so because Call of Duty 4 Remastered released alongside it which had my full attention after about a month.

Definedterms - July 23, 2022, 9:35 pm

I pray this lives up to all our expectations... and has support for years to come.

Snowwy - July 25, 2022, 7:58 am

Looking forward to seeing this one.

King Joey - July 26, 2022, 4:37 am

I mean, I think I will buy this game. $69.99 is a bit pricy IMO.

$59.99 was more reasonable back in the day.

I will most likely buy this because it's something to play during the winter.

Casp?r - July 26, 2022, 1:41 pm

The last couple of CODs were quick cash grabs, this looks somewhat promising. I want to play the campaign for sure 'og' MW2 story was so good.

Senior - July 26, 2022, 1:42 pm

Like many other CODs, I'll probably get this....just for something new to play/grind. Cold War wasn't bad, but Vanguard was terrible. Thankfully I only played the beta and never bought the game.

probs gonna be shit but ill try it like every year sadge

Humboldt - August 18, 2022, 7:39 pm

Cant wait to see some actual gameplay. COD has changed so much with the introduction of battle royals.

J3reach - August 20, 2022, 1:43 am

Personally, I feel as if that the battle royale gamemode for the past couple cods have been failures. Warzone was worse the blackout in my opinion but that is a very low bar.

Blazin - August 20, 2022, 1:55 am

Pass. Call of duty's are played out and boring now. Vanguard all of that. Just the same shit, different wrapper.

Spec - August 20, 2022, 8:07 am

Looking forward to this for a while now.

XeCheats - August 22, 2022, 7:18 am

If they rebalance the guns and stuff they will likely ruin what made the game so fun. I loved how chaotic multiplayer was in this game ill have to watch gameplay when it comes out before trusting cod again

Fortunate - August 22, 2022, 10:54 am

I had a great time playing MW multiplayer and I'm a nostalgic fan of the MW series.

Honestly, graphics wise it looks exactly like the previous iteration but who cares about graphics nowadays? I will most likely purchase MW2 to play the campaign (the previous game's campaign had some great moments) and goof around in multiplayer for the first 2 hyped weeks.

I'm interested to see what the Tarkov-like game mode will be like.

Lyrice - August 22, 2022, 11:26 am

This happens everytime, haha.

I get super hyped, pre-order the game, the game is shit, I regret.

Fresku - August 22, 2022, 12:08 pm

The chances are quite high that I would buy this game.

A good game to get around winter time.

eej1422 - September 21, 2022, 6:12 pm

Kaoru Hanayama - September 23, 2022, 5:01 pm

anoncrab - September 23, 2022, 11:58 pm

Fuck yes, I definitely will be playing it when it comes out. I've been playing the Open beta on PC, and can confirm it's a lot of fun so far. Can't wait for full release, especially after hearing they plan on bringing back spec-ops. Super hyped.

Performance will be fine, the prices won't be. You are basically paying scalper/miner prices, just directly to Nvidia instead of having a middleman involved. RTX 4000 series is just significantly more expensive versions of the current 3000 series. I'd either buy RTX 3000 series soon, or wait until AMD drops their RDNA3 cards and then re-evaluate the market then.

For what it's worth, actual performance for 4000 series should be 20-30% better than 3000 series. Nvidia's showing of their specially crafted demos always produce ridiculous numbers that only make sense in a lab, not your living room.

Gary - September 26, 2022, 8:59 am

Geez, final hour of the beta thought I'd get on to have some fun. Nope. Its now full of hackers finally. First match on, I play against a 6man team using aimbot and walls. Second game on, play against one guy using aimbot and walls.

If you use cheats in a video game, you're pathetic. You lack the skillset to play legit so you resort to cheating.

Uninstalled the beta now. Highly debating getting a refund.

(Sep 26, 2022 08:59 AM)Gary Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Geez, final hour of the beta thought I'd get on to have some fun. Nope. Its now full of hackers finally. First match on, I play against a 6man team using aimbot and walls. Second game on, play against one guy using aimbot and walls.

If you use cheats in a video game, you're pathetic. You lack the skillset to play legit so you resort to cheating.

Uninstalled the beta now. Highly debating getting a refund.

Bruh that's kinda disappointing, I played the beta till the last minute and effectively I noticed some players that seemed to be cheating. I mean, I remember seeing someone here on HF selling a cheat and it was like day 2 of the beta, so I wouldn't be surprised if cheating communities had already put their effort into populating the game.

I really hope it doesn't turn into a shit show though, I enjoyed the game and I'm most likely going to purchase it, but I don't want to end playing against cheaters in every lobby.

I'm so lost, wasn't MW2 released like a really long time ago and then some year ago they made a remade or something. And now they have a new game also called MW2???? Can't they just go to the next iteration?

It is a bit confusing, but it is a sequel to the series. Pretty good campaign, not gonna lie.

The best one was the Black Ops series.

And that's how my play style has been since I started COD way back when, if I can't rush without being the loudest damn thing on the map, it's not for me. And the gun play feels like Battlefield which I can't stand... If I can't get used to it I'm going back to Cold War.

I do like this game a lot more then cold war, but yeah having foot steps sucks.. I just be jumping around now to hope to get the best advantage in gun fights.. Plus playing mouse and keyboard makes movement a breeze

After having it and playing it for a bit now, the campaign is pretty fun but nothing absolutely wildly good. The multiplayer definitely feels good, but overall the whole game just feels recycled to me. A solid 7/10 overall I'd say, not bad but nothing to write home about.

Decent game doesn't feel finished, I'm really upset over lack of leader boards and challenges for multiplayer to unlock elbems and titles, which may be added with the first season of the game but just seems like I'm playing a beta at this point.

Plus now they'd talk about a 70$ dlc next year since they aren't releasing a cod every year.
Considering the fact the initial release didn't even have 70$ worth of content

Enjoyed this more than the last few CODs, but not interested in WZ at all. The maps feel eh to me and also I feel like I either get into a lobby where I am first or last every game lol.

Are yall using MKB or controllers? I have read that the aim assist is strong on controllers this year and that there might be an advantage.
