Guy been on the forum for 5 days, bought l33t on his first day then went to the marketplace and started to sell stuff.

The red flags were there... Hope he'll end up paying up nonetheless

Waiting for him to reply, as i got literally no replies from him.

Idk why would he spend so much on graphics and shit when he's not capable of doing something. Lol

I believe that was the whole point of his account. He went on here to line up some costumers, then he ripped em all off and we wont see him log in again, he got what he came for, he'll be back on another account where he will do the same thing.
