No bullshit threads on group owners flooding HF with buyins.

Edit- groups make awesome friends

Edit2- didn't mean to hurt some feelings ???

Now we just need fewer vanity groups.

Naw, just groups that exist for the sake of flexing and don't really add to the forum itself. But maybe I'm just forever stuck in The Alliance, Black Knights, and Infamous mindset.

Much love man. BlackKnights was my main group and Alliance as well, Infamous I'm sure you know who brought that to HF.

Edit!!! Holy shit my old great friend Xypher. Infamous invite. Thanks for the message bro.

Infamous was definitely one of the high quality groups back in the day that I never had a chance of getting into.

Its nice to see a couple of the group owners here are really chill people when you actually talk to them.

Seems like people like to start drama to feel what it was like in the old days.

As for group buy-ins its a meme. Biggest scam on HF next to eBooks lol.

I mean if someone wants to spend thousands on a flex I don't see the issue. Groups have almost always been useless and just a flex. OG illuminati is the last group I remember actually feeling like it existed as something more than just a clique which is what all groups are right now. Sure warriors seems to be pumping out some high quality guides but users could do that without the warriors name.

Groups are expensive cliques that serve no real purpose, and that's the joy of them and the beauty of HF.

Version 14.6 alpha variant.

Should point out 5 or 6 groups are doing buy ins right now, one of them is a sticky, if you subtract the dead groups that's the majority.

N - July 2, 2022, 8:56 pm

Nothing to be proud of, still a lot of broke kids flexing to fit in by owning groups.

When everyone gets on Pink LSZ level we can be proud.

It's always been an issue, I imagine. I know you had that issue with Propitious, Qwazz and I had that issue with Black Knights which is what led to the massive revamp. That's also why The Alliance had such strict requirements to join. Less about only taking in the highest quality people and more about making sure whoever joined actually put effort into the group, either in public or private.

Black knights was interesting because of how group projects were handled. I thoroughly enjoyed the offsite relationships at the time. But alas I admire how The Warriors handles community. While it's not quite Black Knights as far as what was going on behind scenes it's nice to have a group of great fellas who prefer having a common goal and that's community progression.
