Ross Ulricht is fake, is really living in Cuba.

The government set up the darknet markets to control everything, duh.

Use your brains, and don't buy drugs, because they're sold by the government.

Actually what you are saying is only half true, Silk Road 2 was a honeypot setup by the feds the first one was 100% real and ran by him until the fed bois came up and ragged his ass.

Ross was offered a 10 year plea deal a did not take it! He would have been free by now but got life. Every shmoe in jail knows you can't win federal charges. Couldn't believe he did not know how to set up his own safe house. Some criminals are gifted in certain areas.

Classified news? From what source...

LeetSpeed - July 15, 2022, 11:43 pm

That's some high quality news!

Think he was joking. If not, he might have been influenced by a random pop up adds or one of those paper magazines at the checkout line.

How would you know James? Have you seen him in person?

Some seem like they are, won't mention which.

At the end of the day, some of the sellers on those are legit. Just don't ship to your own house, better to be caught "stealing mail" than receiving packs where you sleep.

Jesus actually ran the silkroad. It was handed to him by god.

I use to get pounds of heroin delivered to my house, the mailman use to wear a nice tux as well. Great delivery service, definitely recommend!
