Thread: What is the thing that will end your depression? What do you want most in life?

Mr.Cat - July 16, 2022, 3:35 pm

What do you think you need to stop being depressed? What will allow you to finally be happy? What is the one thing you want the most in life?

Do we even know what it is? Hit me up with your desires!

It varies day per day. Money would solve all stress related issues even though I'm not struggling financially whatsoever.

I believe part of it is having peace with where I am today, that everything has happened for a bigger purpose and that in order for me to be happy is to continue pushing forward and understanding that the good days are only good because of the bad ones, they are both equally as important as the other it's all perspective really. I am who I am today because of the good, bad and horrible days but that's what builds you as a person. Everyone's experience is different but relatable in some way. We all will go through different endeavours with similar results. Perspective is key, enjoy your journey the best you can and accept it for what it is.

I don't think money will solve ALL your problems forever. Maybe for awhile, but what about diseases and stuff, how do you solve that problem? What is THE thing that will solve everything, does it even exist? ?

A large amount of land somewhere very rural with a solid internet connection.

One day.

I want to live near a fishing lake that is also a hybrid of a urban skate spot and I'm the only one there.

I am naming my cat Hamlet. I want my do up house to not be such a fucking do up and I have savings but I'm scared to spend them on the mess of a house and garden.

I tend to get sick quite a bit, however I don't get anything super serious. Just a cold here and there, but if I had unlimited money I would not have to go out as much.

Interesting stuff, seems most people want something simple... However Is that really what you truly want or are you settling with something simple because what you truly want seems impossible?
