Thread: Crypto Portfolio Thread in Crypto Section

PR1V473 - July 19, 2022, 4:40 pm

I was thinking maybe you could as an admin and as an initiative, set up a thread and pin it in the crypto section for portfolio showcases. Similar to when the "post a screenshot of your desktop" threads were "da shit".

People can ofcourse hide their balance with a click of a button, and there will be others who will brag about their portfolios as well. If they're on a hacking board, I am sure that they know how to protect themselves against scammers who will PM them or whatnot.

It'll get the crypto groove going a bit more in this bear market, and we can discuss with a simple reply to someone's portfolio and ask about a certain coin they hold (ex: why they hold it? where do they see it in the future? etc..).

a crypto section would actually make very good sense.

Look closely. It's already there.

Any one can start thread in Crypto section. Why you asking admin only to start? Even you can start this and ask people to share the screenshot.
