Thread: [Should i start watching Boruto? \[SPOILER ALERT\]](#)

NOTE: Naruto / Boruto Spoiler alert

I'm not sure if I'm going to watch Boruto or pretend Boruto doesn't exist. It has become impossible to ignore it.

I hear and see all around me that Kurama is dead and Sasuke has lost his Rinnegan. Whether Boruto is worth watching is a controversial topic among watchers.

What do you guys think about this?

I will never watch it until I hear if Kurama comes back or naruto/sasuke get some crazy power up.

Naruto got Sage of Six Paths power, he can bring Kurama back to life if he really wanted to... I can't stand that little brat Boruto being more powerful than Naruto.

He is the exact opposite of Naruto

Dropped it a few episodes after the chuunin exams arc where they fought Momoshiki - around episode 70 or so.

Not worth getting into imo. Plenty of other good shounen out there to be watched. Just use MAL to search by genre/rating like me.

Not a big fan of boruto myself watched around 220 episodes and dropped it. pretty sure most of them are filler episodes.

you want to waste time? then do it.

found this on google

As of January 30, 2022, the Boruto anime has released 234 episodes, with only 80 of them being manga canon. A whopping 165 episodes are filler, meaning that 70% of the entire anime consists of just filler content.
