Thread: Selling 5 NFT Projects | \$500,000 in Volume

Exchanges - July 28, 2022, 2:34 am

I don't have the time to run these projects anymore due to unforeseen circumstances. These projects have a pretty loyal community and the price can be stabilized to your choosing if you pump them. I will teach you how to do this. For example, number 1's stable price seems to sit around .1 SOL (that's without any interference). If you interfere with the projects and pump them through community sweeps, it will find it's stable price. The marketcap for 1. right now is around 1,000 SOL. The rest have tanked because I haven't pumped them to find it's stable price. I could see number 3 and 5 having the largest STABLE marketcap of at least 1,000 SOL if you run these projects right.

1. https://m*giceden.io/marketplace/ - 5,000+ SOL Volume
2. https://m*giceden.io/marketplace/ - 4,500+ SOL Volume
3. https://m*giceden.io/marketplace/ - 1,000+ SOL Volume
4. https://m*giceden.io/marketplace/ - 200+ SOL Volume
5. https://m*giceden.io/marketplace/ - 150+ SOL Volume

Total: 11,000+ SOL

By purchasing you will receive:

- 100% Support/Advisement (I will teach you how to run these projects, how to change any and all information associated with the metadata, specific tips for each audience, how to build the project, etc.)
- 100% Ownership (I will change the update authority address to yours and change the royalty address to yours- free of charge)
- 100% Ownership of the Discord servers
- 100% Ownership of Twitter

HF changed big time. I know people would be dying to at least know what the projects were only a couple years ago...

NFT Hype is gone and this guy enjoyed the most profitable state of these projects, we all know that, of course there is still some money to be made with this here and there, sure.

Also people don't care about the names as there are so many of them, it really is a saturated and even worse, a dying market.

carcossa - August 4, 2022, 9:25 pm

NFT hype is definitely not gone the kid above me is a retard, however rugged projects value is $0, you should actually be paying to transfer ownership of these projects to someone else LOLLL

I'm not a kid, and it is fact that the hype is over and the industry is dying, long term statistics don't lie, there has only been $19+ mill in trading volume in the NFT market in the past 24 hours kid. ???

congrats, we're in a bear market - does not mean it will be dead or is dying

Well a 19+ million total trading volume over 24 hours of all NFTs combined, is pretty much already dead, bear market or not.

NFT's have a 90%+ decreased activity compared to hype stats from last year.

Bear market or not, those numbers clearly indicate that the hype is gone, i find it idiotic from you to claim otherwise.

And as for my statement of NFTs as an industry dying, let me rephrase that better:

NFT's as industry are dying down towards a point where it's stabilized and real projects will remain to exist while these art based rug pull projects will pretty much disappear towards a point that they will be considered dead eventho they are not entirely as there will always be baboons to invest/play with them, just like some baboons also still invest in pyramid HYIPs, also dead, but not gone entirely and same counts for meme coins.

I feel sorry for you that you can't see the bigger picture of how things will and are playing out, you should get yourself a crypto and nft oriented financial advisor.

99% of projects will be worth 0 next year

NFT's are not dead

I make money in NFT markets bear market or not that is my conclusion

what this kid is selling is also a scam

thats my second coinclusion

thnx

Sure, people also still make money with HYIPs, doesn't mean HYIPs are hyped or alive ?

I wouldn't say it's gone at all-- especially with Solana. Everybody who got rekt from ETH went to SOL because it's cheaper and I'd say more chill. Because of it's lower pricing this also allows more people to invest across the globe. There's a lot of hype, but the meta is degen minting, which is essentially gambling. I derug and revive projects, but am focusing on a new project to legitimize more of my projects. I will agree that it is saturated, though. Everybody and their mother is making a project and scamming out. My main project actually focuses on reviving scam projects and bringing wealth and purpose back to the communities who were betrayed by the dream of becoming rich off of a meaningless picture. Just because there isn't the mainstream hype of larger influencers and a news talking about it doesn't mean it's dead thnxNice fud. How am I a scam? These are very bold statements you're making. really cringe to intentionally hurt the sales of somebody you don't know ofe

Rugged projects hold value based off of their community. The community in a couple of the projects have been outstanding and loyal. It just depends on how the situation is approached
