Thread: Chicken is the superior meat.

Mr. Robot - August 2, 2022, 7:40 pm

So I like steak, pork - the rest of it. And chicken sausages don't do it for me.

However if we had to give up all meats except one, i'd keep Chicken.

I could live the rest of my life on Chicken, Rice and Potatoes as the core of any recipe I make.

Thoughts?

Deformed - August 2, 2022, 7:45 pm

I loved chicken. But ever since I got my own place and started cooking my own meals, I cook a disproportionate amount of ground beef now. Chicken is such a hassle sometimes. (Hoping to buy a grill soon so I can enjoy chicken again)

IF I had to live off of one meat, health effects aside, I would choose steak.

1337GAMER - August 2, 2022, 7:49 pm

I could eat only chicken, every day, for the rest of my existence.

Average HF User - August 2, 2022, 8:07 pm

Lamb is the king of meats.

Prince™ - August 2, 2022, 9:11 pm

Chicken is amazing especially it's low on fats/cholesterol when compared to beef/pork/lamb.

But the superior meat imo will always be lamb, hands down.

?nxy - August 2, 2022, 9:27 pm

Chicken is my favorite bro!

Have the shit with Tabasco sauce and it's the greatest.

Lilith - August 2, 2022, 9:27 pm

Buffalo hot wings, nuff said.

Truth - August 2, 2022, 9:35 pm

technically speaking, liver probably has the most nutrients of the different cuts of meats.

If I had to pick, for taste. wagyu steak probably wins for me. Chicken is pretty bland.

Though honestly, I prefer seafood

Upgrader - August 2, 2022, 9:55 pm

If we're speaking remove all others but one I feel like the only correct answer is chicken.

DashPHP - August 3, 2022, 1:44 am

After being veggie for like 18 years of my life (veggie household) i started exploring meat, and yeah Chicken is by far the best.

Goku - August 3, 2022, 2:05 am

Nah, rib-eye the best meat. Also, if you undercook chicken, you'll get sick real bad.

Eran - August 3, 2022, 2:18 am

I agree with you, if I had to give up every kind of meat except one, it would be chicken defo.

MavenGradle - August 3, 2022, 5:29 am

My first thoughts are something along the lines of: "What?"

Junot - August 3, 2022, 5:58 am

Chicken and fish. Both of my fav meats, but Chicken not superior at all, for me at least, but yes, i can't denies love to eat all recipes with chicken as the meat.

rfal - August 3, 2022, 9:22 am chicken, i just cant get tired of it

Leonidas - August 3, 2022, 11:56 am

Nowadays chickens are pet in farms. They are fed oxytocin mix food to make them grow fast.

I don't eat commercially grown chicken but chicken found in country area. These chickens are very tasty and healthy for your body.

I can eat chicken everyday and Lamb meat twice a month.

Mr. Robot - August 3, 2022, 1:34 pm

(Aug 3, 2022 09:23 AM)Lowkey Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Some cuts of steak / etc. have a higher quality protein for your body. Because of that reason, frankly, I'm out.

I agree but the point is i'd get sick of steak before chicken.

blackrose_x0x0 - August 3, 2022, 4:08 pm

I already eat chicken more than any other meat (fish included) so if I had to make a decision to only eat one type of the rest of my life, chicken is the obvious winner. I would miss steak the most though.

Yin Yang - August 3, 2022, 4:17 pm

I agree, if I only had one to choose from, it'd be chicken.

I'd eventually get tired of eating beef, fish, etc.

SecureOp - August 3, 2022, 4:51 pm

If I had to choose to eat one type of meat every day, it definitely would be chicken.

Fry the tits out of it and tell me chicken is superior.

It is. Tofu is disgusting no matter how you try cover its taste.

Seiyoku - August 3, 2022, 7:48 pm

This is a very controversial topic. Sometimes meat is good in the morning, and I don't normally think to eat chicken for breakfast. Pulled pork is good for breakfast, lunch, or dinner, but is not healthy to eat three times a day. So if we're including health side effects, then yea, chicken would be the best choice.

MavenGradle - August 4, 2022, 4:19 pm

Don't you think it's funny how lots of people say that alligator meat and so many other different kinds of meat taste like chicken?

Satoru Gojo - August 4, 2022, 4:45 pm

I think there's some meats that taste better at a higher level, like some good ass steak or salmon or whatnot

But chicken has to be the easiest/most consistent meat. So many good fucking meals use chicken, and it's just so easy to make. I'd personally make the same choice too

Smurfboi007 - August 7, 2022, 10:10 am

Chicken and rice is delicious. I agree with you on this one. Although a good steak with smashed potatoes and a good béarnaise sauce is hard to beat absolutely, dude... I bought some Buffalo Wild Wings official sauce and I'm gonna have them on some chicken drums tonight. Hope they're good.

SIM-3323508 - August 7, 2022, 10:30 am

Try chicken drumstick lolipops when you have the chance

Cuthbert - August 7, 2022, 10:49 am

Whale steak or foie gras.

Isolate - August 7, 2022, 11:59 am

I actually agree on this one, if I could only pick one meat to eat the rest of my life it would be chicken and who's to say we cant have the eggs either really a win win situation here. So many things you can do with chicken. :)

DashPHP - August 8, 2022, 5:04 am

Though if it's Chicken from KFC, I won't eat it. Tastes like SHIT in the UK.

True. Except fish is probably more healthy still. And chicken thighs and wings are awesome. It's chicken breast that is actually pretty awful unless velveted.

To tell you the truth, it's a big hit or miss, like 20% success rate for the food to come proper... I usually order food online and my last 5 KFC orders. only 1 was good, I really enjoyed it. But the rest? Felt like a zombie just put it all together and off it went to my door. xD

Well shit. What've you been ordering as well?

I don't go there often, but maybe it was a bad item to order? Not sure really thats tough its straight up bad and not just okay.

So in the UK they have these Box Combos where you get like a burger, 2 wings, chips and dring and i usually go for that. Burger is better thans wings but the wings can be nasty man. Hah

Beef is my #1, chicken in 2nd and pork in 3rd. I've been watching videos on Kobe/Wagyu beef and god damn I want to try either or one day. Pricey but it would be worth it to be able to try it. I'm talking like higher end grades. When I move outta my current state I'll be closer to a place that has it on their menu.

?ClavicusVile - August 9, 2022, 1:05 am

I don't know - I eat chicken because its cheaper than other meats out there. Best part is I can get them boneless, which is awesome! :)

Sounds like a lot of whipping, but I reckon I could tie down just to chicken breast alone and I will be fine.

ModernEHustle - August 9, 2022, 11:06 pm

I feel like chicken is super annoying to cook. But price wise it's a total win. Also chicken tastes better than beef in fast food places.

007 - August 11, 2022, 3:40 pm

Beef is way superior to me. Although because chicken is so versatile I do get that you'd give up the others.

Some chicken sausages are actually really good, depends where you get them I suppose as overall I don't like them either.
