Thread: Covid finally found me again

iNviZ - August 3, 2022, 7:44 pm

Had it once but was in a business meeting today and started having insane back aches.

Wife has been sick last couple day but figured it was a cold. First time wasn't bad this time feel like I got hit by a truck.

They noticed people having swelling in the brain which can cause bleeding if not taken care of. Unless hes been having gay sex with his wife he's probably clear on monkeypox.

Meaning if someone is infected with it. If they open a door and that door handle hasn't been cleaned.

You will catch it. It's spreading like crazy. My state went from 2 cases to now 12 cases.

I will bet you any amount of money I will not catch monkeypox lol, and you likely won't either unless you're gay and very sexually active.

Covid's having a fucking crazy comeback right now. My ER has tripled the amount of covid patients we usually see.

I had a fuckin 3 DAY old with covid yesterday. 3 day.

#Skyline - August 3, 2022, 8:27 pm

Just recently recovered from Covid. Hope you recover soon iNviZ.

Damn that's scary, my toddlers seem to be fine but it's an odd ass flu for sure. I just keep walking around for my aches, I hear that's a good way to heal faster other then laying in bed all day.

I'd say moving is a bit better than just sitting in your old sickness, but medication to treat the symptoms will generally make you feel better.

Made a guide about OTC medications here, will help you better than nothing:

I have a really bad cold right now and I'm thinking it's covid but I tested negative with at home kits.

We must have had the exact same symptoms.

I truly felt my back shattering. Shit was scary.

Hey, I wish you to get healthy fast!! It's a fucking hell and I am afraid that more and more viruses will pop up shortly! I vaccinated myself 3 times, I am making sports, one day I was going to swim and I stopped breathing and I fill a push on my chest and I was in the water..that was a nightmare for me. It's all I have to say, I will not do any other vaccine after this. And now whenever I push myself in sports i get the same result, it's like heart attack. it's terrifying.

Who caught monkeypox at HF? Covid is old story

Juoku - August 5, 2022, 4:35 pm

Sounds rough mate, hope it passes by quickly and you'll feel better soon!

Essentially, not too much to worry about.

Would rather have a rash then Covid, odd how Covid doesn't hardly effect some people and most kids.

Yeah man 4 of employees got it this week as well.

Pound - August 5, 2022, 6:41 pm

Same here bro had it few days now, starting to ease off

The Pact - August 5, 2022, 6:45 pm

I still have not had Covid. This is possibly due to my never leaving the house.

Grim - August 5, 2022, 6:51 pm

oof i got it once the Omicron variant at the beginning of this year (from sending it in mexico hard).
Fingers crossed i dont get it again :(

This one has been insane with the aches, had to change so many meetings this week going to take me a month to catch up. I had 4 employees come down with it this week as well and tow of them are going to milk it out.

Cap - August 5, 2022, 8:20 pm

Damn man, sorry to hear that. I have had covid once, but the body aches were insane. My neck and upper back were in extreme pain and I couldn't do anything to relieve the symptoms. The first 3 days were pretty rough for me to be honest.

Senno - August 5, 2022, 9:17 pm

Hope you get well soon, buddy.

I don't know if that still exist as we already activities as usual.

Stellen Sie TT - August 6, 2022, 5:35 am

I never had the Covid, I never had not shots... but what's going on?

Sorry to hear, hope you recover soon!

I had it twice, the first one was not that bad, just headaches mostly, the second one was two days of cold sweats and body aces. Most people will get mild symptoms where others get the full package. Also never did that injections, DO NOT TRUST THE GOVERNMENT to handle distribution and injections, this due to 80% of our stock was left in a un-refrigerated storage for months, and they still want to inject people with that shit. Hell no.

Anyway, herd-immunity is our best solution, mostly all people will have had it or immune to it by now. Just keep drinking your vitamin boosters and a shot of Vodka to clear the throat ;)

HOMODIN - August 7, 2022, 12:24 am

I'm sorry to hear that, even tho, look at the positive side, covid really likes you since it wants to come on a repeat visit ;)

Hope you get well soon to n don't get any life long shit from it.

I'm lucky, I have had it 0 times and I have traveled a fair bit too and all my neighbors have had it and what nat...the only thing that I have had is a damn retarded cough that just won't go away. It originates from our AC, 26C = house becomes a freezer and 27C = blows out hot air...so yeah, slept in a freezer something like a month ago and I still have the cough...

DashPHP - August 7, 2022, 1:04 am

How are you feeling now? Hopefully much better i hope!

koviarep - August 7, 2022, 6:01 am covid is basically very dangerous disease

SIM-3323508 - August 7, 2022, 6:06 am

Hope you and the fam get well soon!

Isolate - August 7, 2022, 12:11 pm

That's a shame, seems like allot of people have been catching covid lately all my roommates just had it and somehow I managed not to get it despite being around them most of the day. lol

Ke$h - August 8, 2022, 1:25 am

I also caught it too. Back pains, massive headaches, seems like this variant is worse.

Royal ! - August 8, 2022, 5:51 am

Had it last year, it was very gross. Well, get well soon my man.

Eran - August 8, 2022, 1:30 pm

Seems like its a new wave everywhere. I just hope we don't go back to lockdowns. Get well soon. :)

cecrified - August 8, 2022, 5:25 pm praying for you man i never had covid in the time its been out.
