Thread: A Copy of Alex Jones Cellphone Will Be Turned Over to the January 6 Committee

BiNBo - August 5, 2022, 6:36 am

Quote:After Wednesday's revelation that an attorney for Alex Jones accidentally turned over a copy of his entire cellphone to the lawyers suing him on behalf of Sandy Hook parents, a couple of things were obvious. The first was that Alex Jones must be turning redder than ever; the second was that the Congressional committee holding hearings on the January 6 insurrection would probably want those records, too. In an emergency hearing this morning, an attorney for the Sandy Hook parents, Mark Bankston, confirmed that he'd had requests from "several law enforcement agencies," including the January 6 committee, to turn over the phone data, and that he intends to do so "immediately."

Ignoring the discussing of who's right or wrong in this situation. For those who've been loosely following this particular topic like myself. What do you think? I'd be absolutely livid if my attorney accidentally sent the opposing side a literal copy of my entire phone that could potentially have any variety of incriminating evidence ?. I'd be even more angry if the only thing done to try and rectify this at first was simply an email that says, "please disregard."

Itachi Uchiha - August 6, 2022, 8:18 pm

I'm very interested in the information released from the phone. Jones is one of if not the biggest alt-right personality maybe Shawn Hannity is first? I believe he has more viewers.

I didn't watch much of the trial only snippets, but you can definitely see a MASSIVE demeanor change once his phone leaks got revealed.

Did the lawyer do it on purpose?

This is the same guy that would go to the Bohemian Grove with his guy friend

Shameful attack on free speech. The offense he may have caused is certainly not worth the $49 million they're asking for...

Mr.Cat - August 9, 2022, 2:41 pm

They already banned Alex Jones from everything, why are they keep attacking him?

They, they, they, they, they. Defamation has never been and never should be "free speech." It's a free speech exception as has been defined by the Supreme Court of the USA.

And again who is "they," I assume you meant the parents, but in fact their lawyers would have chosen the amount to sue for which isn't the amount the lawyers actually expect to get.

And I don't think those lies about the parents are worth any less than $49 million actually.

I mean coome oon who takes the guy seriously. He was ridiculed by everyone and most people watched him for entertainment . Nobody ever took him seriously... and i think he already paid for the lies and defamation by being removed from everywhere on the internet. Why go any further than that... and coome on. His lawyer assistant "accidentaly" send his whole phone data to the other party how can you even do that "accidentally"...

Social media companies individually making the choice to ban him has nothing to do with a trial against him for lying about parents whose five year olds were murdered. You aren't exactly putting yourself in the shoes of a parent whose five year old was murdered and then a big personality with millions of followers lied about them, so they got death threats from his fans now are you? You just like him because he's a alt-right wing mouth piece so he can do no wrong ....right?

This guy actually believes this stuff. Thats the thing. He is not lying, he is insane. Have you seen when joe rogan invited him to talk on a podcast?

Whatever, should we just hang him on a rope for what he did? Like what else do you want him to do or happen to him, he apologized multiple times in the past as well, he was made to pay 45 million and now theres more to come...

I like him because he is entertaining and i laughed a lot in the past. Nobody should take him seriously. He believes in lizard men and aliens that want to harm him... being "alt-right" if he even knows what he is has nothing to do with it.

You just did the Fox News thing. Ya kno?

When Fox News got sued for all of Turker Carlsons lies then they were like "no one take him seriously", that's legitimately how they won the case.

You really compare Turker to Alex Jones? You seem clueless as to who Alex Jones really is.

Didn't watch the video, I know enough about Jones.

I'm not comparing the two, I'm comparing your reasoning that "Nobody should take him seriously. " as the same reasoning Fox gave for why Turker Carlsons' rhetoric is ok. Take it up with them.

So if i said never take a flat earther seriously it would be the same reasoning with saying... never take Itachi Uchiha seriously?

Well now you're trying to dissociate Turker and Alex. Jones may be a little more out there but Turker isn't far behind.

<https://www.lamag.com/citythinkblog/tucker-carlson-is-reportedly-a-mess-over-fear-of-alex-jones-phone-leak/>

Also you're just some random, if you told someone not to take me seriously that's an either or choice.

But if your boss/job represented you that way in court and you agreed then that's a whole different thing.

Back to my original point, even though you make fun of Jones since no one could take him seriously yet you seem to take Turker so seriously, yet lawyers and the network you watch him on says he's a joke. I just thought it was an interesting thing. Ya kno?

Don't take it so seriously, I'm no turker after all.

Me personally i dont trust anybody. I dont even watch the dude or Fox news and i'm not even American lmao. I just dont think what i said is wrong. I dont know what tactics Fox news are using but saying you should never take someone like Alex Jones seriously and just have fun and laugh with the dude is kinda common sense? Unless you think people should be handled like farm animals and put to death if they dont obey because people are mindless puppets with no critical thinking abilities and need to be managed as such for the greater good.

I bet you are comparing my logic to Fox news because you think i am right wing or a conservative. It almost feels like you are identifying people in your head only based on their political alignment to seperate friend from foe... and i am not even a conservative... I am a centrists and even left leaning when it comes to political ideology.

boi - August 15, 2022, 1:38 am

I mean, Jones was mostly asked to pay that money in damages because a number of his fans got out of the way to terrorize the families.

TimeshiftR - August 16, 2022, 5:34 pm

J6 is nothing more than a show trial. Involving AJ is just a continuation of their vendetta against him. Punish those against The Party.

SMH. This country is a joke. We sue over the dumbist shit ever. This alex guy... I know people that belived his ass. I was telling people how da fuck does one think they're actors. They paid for a funeral and everything. Do you know how much it costs to do such a thing. It just never added up. Alex kept talking like it was a fact that all of the shooting was fake and everyone is nothing but actors. Never showed real proof.

I know the day they said they're talking him to court. He was going to lose the case. How does one go on the air and say these things and not get caught? I mean everyone gets a copy of what you said over the internet or on a radio.

I don't get how can one demand that kind of money when the guy has filed for bankruptcy. He might not have that kind of money anymore. Like other's have said he lost his shows and ratings and adds after that whole mess.

In 2021 his show made roughly 20M per month.

(This information was released in court)

The judge specifically told Alex to stop lying to the jury about being bankrupt.

Of course it's still free speech, you're free to say it, but may face consequences. It's only libel when proven in a court of law. It's dangerous to say you can't say things which may or may not be libellous beforehand, that's bordering on guilty until proven innocent. I'm aware this court has found him guilty (some courts can be wrong) I'm not just referring to him. If it were my child lost in an incident like that I'd welcome anyone saying anything which might get to the truth of what really happened, even if it's offensive. Nothing could hurt me more than the loss itself. One of the mothers in the courtroom never even shed tear once, and the father made pretty outlandish claims like, "people shot at my house," I find it hard to believe anyone would go out of their way to do that.

Omniscient - August 22, 2022, 4:13 pm

Not a fan of Alex Jones. He's an extreme partisan.

jamsensei - August 28, 2022, 7:39 am

Jones just can't catch a break. Maybe he could call his lawyer and ask him if he could find the 11,780 text messages which is one more than he needs.
