Thread: Transactional Email with Privacy for FREE

securer - August 5, 2022, 7:05 am

I will be giving away this transactional smtp to the first 5 trusted/high ranking members who owns a forum or a website that needs email verification/confirmation and doesn't want their real server IP to be disclosed in the email header.

smtp that stripped origin sender's IP is hard to find or expensive. Hackforums and other forum who is using cloudflare to hide their real server IP can still leak their real server IP if they use gmail, yahoo, gmx and etc to sent outgoing confirmation emails. Right now hackforums is using smtp that stripped the origin server IP but it costs them a lot. Same as other forums and website who uses this service to prevent leaking the real server IP in email headers.

Right now, I am offering this smtp that stripped the origin server IP/origin sender IP for FREE to the first 5 trusted members who owns a forum/website.

DO NOT USE THIS FOR BULK MAILING OR I WILL BLOCK YOUR ACCESS TO THE SMTP RIGHT AWAY. This is only for transactional email not for marketing.

I have another product which is not free but can send atleast 100,000 emails per hour.

I have a website I'm running I will like to pick one of this up God bless you.

Easy ways around this though. If you use a service with API, you just use a tunnel for the SMTP. Thus avoiding origin server IP leaking.

The big deal though is finding a service where emails get delivered and aren't sent to the spam folder.

Thank you for offering this to members. Hopefully someone will find it a valuable resource.

Thank you for offering this to members. Hopefully someone will find it a valuable resource. Amazon Simple Email Service does this and is free until a certain amount of emails. Never had problems with them even with copyrighted content hosted on the site itself.

Still, if you don't want to use AWS this is a great option!

GL mate.

Yes. they also strip it but it is very limited. SES is only applicable to small sites.

and here is the proof that the IP shows only the mail server without revealing the sender's IP aka real server IP

I am pretty sure most of us do not appreciate this giveaway because of lack of understanding of it or dunno. But thanks for this OP, personally do not require one so would not take the spot as currently not hosting a website or a forum. When i get started with another project and if this is still up will surely message.

Have a great day :)
