Do You Want To Bet - August 11, 2022, 8:22 pm

Hey I have a girl who wants do to only fans.

I have traffic so I figure we could make some money.

I am just wondering how to set it up? Does she make the creator account and put her bank info and all that? Or do I put my info and then she posts pictures?

If we use her info is there like a "manger" option where I can have access to the account too? Or should she crate the account then j take over and run it and just ask her for pictures ect

Thanks

I havent practically used onyl fans before so i dont know the account side of it. Your second question probably just depends on how much trust you have with her as far as who runs the account. If you wanted to make sure you know how much money she is bringing in you might want to run the account. Plus u gotta trust she sends the pics when u ask lol

If you don't trust her I'd suggest getting her to make the account and verify everything and then you change the password and post all content. When she's paid you take the % you agreed on. I'd also try to set her up for cam shows and using kik as well. She will need a twitter, Snapchat and Instagram in her model name. Email and PayPal as well, I'd keep passwords for all.

Easiest thing would be for her to enter her own bank information, under her name, and withdraw the money that way. Then you can send her an invoice for your %.

Or if you use Fansly, and you're in one of the supported countries, you can get paid in crypto - in that case you can enter your wallet and then send her her cut every week/month.
