Title

I won't post spoilers because I doubt anyone is watching it but I think it would be a safe recommendation to anyone and everyone. When the show started it was compared to Erased/ReZero/etc a lot, but as more plot elements get uncovered it's starting to turn into a faster paced version of AoT. In most recent episodes there's been a really well animated fight or action sequence, but in episode 18 the direction/performance just blows everything else we've seen in anime out of the water IMO (think of that one famous scene from Demon Slayer but x100). As far as I know it's a pretty lowkey anime compared so other ones this season but hopefully it will get some more hype after the last episode

Also a manga reader, just waiting for all the episodes to be aired since waiting weekly is pain. I think it's still gonna be an underrated anime even though it's good though..

The wait adds to the hype for me, I feel like I wouldn't have been as into this anime or tokyo revengers if I watched it all in one sitting

True, that was the case for me with Re;Zero, since I had to like think about everything that might/might not happen for the entire week, lmao.
