Thread: Bitcoin has hit 25,000

SIM-1169085 - August 14, 2022, 8:16 pm

I got the screen shot live as it just happened

It's held there for the last few minutes but from here we may see a solid 25k - 28k hold due to people wanting to jump in now that we broke 25k.

It didn't drop to 10k or below 20k like many people were claiming. Just goes to show buy and hold. Don't worry about buying in at the right price when the market is already down 70% from ATH

We may lose 25k for a brief few days but we will recover past it.

shreder - August 14, 2022, 8:36 pm

The reason why the entire market is going up... THE MERGE

Most people claiming at 10k will end up buying at $100k

Just marking history here and what I think will happen.

It'll be nice to look back at this thread a few years from now and smile either way.

Gotta own at least 2 Bitcoins before the next bull run. Current goal.

Also I don't think this volatility from Bitcoin rising 10% is anything new and it actually seems normal from my perspective since we hit a bottom of 17 thousand. Ethereum merge is good for you ethereum holders but as for that crossing over to Bitcoin I just don't see it. Bitcoin is in a weight class of its own and the strength and value it brings to the table is one of a fierce and powerful beast even compared to Ethereum.

I don't own any Ethereum so I could really give a damn about Ethereum I wouldn't mind making money off it and then reinvest everything back in Bitcoin but I don't even know the point when I can just buy Bitcoin and not try to play games with the market.

It is indeed aging very well so far, nothing goes up in a straight line like OP also said if you had read properly, we are also still very far above crucial levels, the fact that 25k was hit is huge, and all indicators are extremely bullish, a pull back is matching up perfectly, what is your point?

I'm asking the same to you.

Most definitely not the only reason, but yes one of the bigger reasons.
The merge is the only reason why ETH is going up so significantly though.

There's no analysis to this thread, just he said she said and a screenshot. No need to get rallied up maximalist.

My threads pure short term speculation.

Anyways it's been less then 24 hours so let's see what happens. I'm expecting to go back to above 25k.

That is an irrelevant response to my question.

Also I'm not a maximalist I profit both ways, wether crypto goes up or down it doesn't matter and my comment wasn't maximalistic either in any way.

Which indicates that you don't know what you are talking about and you just throw a random "insult" in the hopes it throws people off and makes you look like you know what you are talking about while in fact it makes you look dumb, and I'm not saying that you are, I'm simply stating that your behaviour makes it look like that.

Think before you post, you already made 2 useless comments in this thread, don't let it get out of hand, I'm confident that you are better than that.

Here's the 3rd useless comment, bite me.

Attempting to psychoanalyse a three worded comment.. Imfao

It wasn't an attempt, and indeed yet again a useless comment, but i didn't expect anything different from you as having a normal intelligent conversation goes beyond you clearly, i expected 3 things to play out here, another useless comment, an insult, or pretty much no comment at all.

Save the energy of trying to respond to this comment, it's fine.

G Eazy - August 15, 2022, 10:52 am

It will be back above 25k before we know it.

Seiyoku - August 16, 2022, 10:04 pm

23,6 right now.

It's going to go back up, as long as you bought in when it was low last month you should be happy, that may be lowest it will ever go again.

This is a False Clam. Where it looks dead and if you put your finger in it you find out it's alive. BTC I can guarantee you will either go up or down after the Clam Event.

I just invented it. It's the latest thing in TA.

Just keep DCAing if you love your little bitty coins mate.

Why do people always want BTC to go up? That's just asking for a huge crash. Let it go down, get cheap, and load up.

We are now on a good way to hit 20k, so new chance to buy more ?

G Eazy - August 19, 2022, 7:10 am

Great time to buy more if you ask me.

nelz - August 19, 2022, 7:35 am

Market really teasing me at this price I want things to bottom out so I can load up :(

What is your bottom target $900B, $800B?

I am looking for btc to hit say 16k which I think is possible before bouncing back. I just can't help shake the feeling we are in for one big drop yet.

It's had strong support around the $20k area tho for weeks now. Unless something major happens I don't see it going much below that. I think it's more likely to see a $30k BTC in 2 months time than seeing a $16k BTC.

I just throw a portion at BTC every paycheck. Just like I do my Stocks. Slowly accumulate more. Because when it's $100,000/BTC in a couple years you'll be kicking yourself for not buying at these "low" prices.
