The project is developed by David Chaum and has an active developer team behind it. They already have TRUE privacy messaging app on their blockchain, and I think are on the road to being very successful if they come out of this bear market alive.

Has anyone heard of them? Currently they are trading on MEXC.

I joined their community. Very alive and active, hope to see some guides on how to start my own node.

Huh, their explorer looks exactly the same as AZERO, is it a open source tool?

Setting up a node seems to costing around $5.7k atm

That web interface is known as polkadot.js. Any substrate based chain can utilize that and the polkadot.js web extension to act as a explorer, wallet, and signer.
