Thread: Want My personal CB cam broadcast records

CBcamrecords - August 21, 2022, 10:23 am

Not looking for services yet, am curious just to know if what I am interested in is feasible.

Content warning: Mature, also image warning even though attached graphic parts are blurred.

From 1/30/2021-8/25/2021, I would occasionally engage with a popular cam website, which we can just call "CB," as a performer. I want to see any or all of my broadcasts during that time period. Website is not being helpful because it was so long ago and I had deleted the account.

However, for months after Aug 2021, whenever I would Google: "[my username] + [CB website name]" I would see in images tons of thumbnails of my broadcasts. Yet, whenever I went to the resources on my account (prior to deletion) I had never seen any option to view my broadcasts. Never was able to see them and was never made aware they were keeping records of my broadcasts. Until I googled my CB username.

To this day, I cannot understand why that, when I look back at the export zip files I had downloaded of my account before deleting, the file folder that reads, "photo video sets" (contains 1 item) has folder "videos" (contains 0 items). ZERO! How is this possible when Google images has been littered of so many various thumbnails of my broadcasts from that time. So, it looks like to me my footage data was disseminated to several other orbiting cam sites (where I was seeing the thumbnails) but didn't give me the records?

Regardless, I just want to personally view/access any of my precious broadcasts and, due to the prolific thumbnails across related sites, I assume that data was open to sharing for a while and hope that those records/opportunities to access those broadcasts are still available.

Happy to provide screenshots of any information or resources I have referenced here.

Also, I have no idea what this would look like and, therefore, have no idea what skills would be relevant nor appropriate compensation for this type of job. If you have any suggestions for how I could improve this post (like better identifying related skills and comp), please share that feedback with me.

Thank you very much for your time and consideration.
