If you were making so much money, you wouldn't have any issue resolving your disputes ?

Yep, launching this group is going to resolve the recent one, speaking with the guy rn. The other one is old and outdated, but i've reached out to the individual to try and solve the issue. Thanks for checking :D

I can definitely vouch for Playa and his very unique dropshipping method.

This is a method that I have definitely never seen before and it is indeed very successful. Playa is extremely knowledgeable in this field and evidently has years of experience as he knows how to get stores started and earning in a short period of time. Playa is very helpful and offered to hop onto a discord call to explain and screenshare everything to me and show me his personal setup for the many stores he runs.

Playa runs multiple stores which have been grown completely organically and are all successfully bringing in thousands of dollars every month, I believe with an 80-90% profit margin for every store which is fantastic. This is also a completely legitimate business that is legal to do and Playa offers to assist people with this service internationally, meaning anybody can get involved and get started when they are ready to.
