$350 for $300 spending power. Not a good deal imo if you lower your prices sometime tell me

please. Otherwise pricing looks fair, anyways glws

It means the account priced at 350$ has a 300$ spent history.

It is my bad I should change the design of the thread.

If you would sell a mentorship on how to create such accounts I would be interested rather than buying only one account ;)

There is not hidden method. You create acc on a real ip and real company information spend money on the acc and sell it.

Have you tried creating those with blackhat campaigns ? If yes does it usually work ?

There is no secret accounts that will allow a bh niche to run.

If an account can run an ad it can run the bh niche depending on how you setup the website and the ad.

The main difference of this accounts is how much you can setup as a budget from day 1.

The more spent the acc has the more budget you can setup.
