Don't expect answers in this thread. You posted it in the completely wrong section. You posted in Premium Tools and Software, are you selling something? No, I advise you to close the thread and post it in the matching section.

This is the Premium Sellers Section. This belongs in buyers bay as you are not selling anything.

I believe he just requested a pw reset link to his own account and added it in the code. If he would've "exploit" 1-2 famous accounts would be much more believable
