The Coven's Halloween Party

Event hosted by The Coven

Welcome to The Coven's Halloween Party! It's October, which means Halloween is coming up soon. This little event here will consist of a couple contests of sorts, and giveaways.

General Rules:

For general entry into your participation, please do the following:

Members with the ability to do so drop a +10 popularity & QL

V3ndors drop a +5 popularity & QL

Ub3rs drop a +3 popularity & QL

L33ts drop a +1 popularity & QL

Non-upgraded members drop a QL

(QL = Quick Love, the heart icon on the corner of the post.)

After you have done that, post in this thread.

Prizes

Please Note, Prizes are subject to increase, number of winners are subject to increase

We will be giving away 3 Pints of Ale awards and a couple upgrades (Or $30 BTC).

One random user will be picked by their post count to receive a permanent L33t or Ub3r upgrade (Or $30 BTC if upgraded), another user will be picked to receive the Pint of Ale award (Or $20 BTC if you already have it.)

Each week leading up to Halloween, 1 random user will be picked to receive $5 in crypto! Starting this Friday (October 7th)

We will be holding a costume/cosplay contest. The theme is to be spooky. Winner will receive both an upgrade and an award (Or $50 BTC)

We will also be holding an original scary story contest. The winner will receive a Pint of Ale award (Or $20 BTC)

The deadline will be Halloween night October 31st 2022, 11:59 PM (ET)

The winners will be decided the following day.

I will ask good old [mention=2774521] to pick the post user winners in live in convos.

Costume/Cosplay Contest Rules:

Rule 1: Stick with the theme. (Spooky)

Rule 2: Post a picture, holding a sign that reads "The Coven Halloween Contest" and your username.

Rule 3: Picture must be real and not photo shopped, or you will be disqualified.

Get creative with these cosplays and costumes, try to impress us. We will pick the spookiest costume/cosplay.

Original Scary Story Contest Rules:

Rule 1: The story must not be sexual in nature.

Rule 2: Be original and be creative.

Rule 3: Story must be at least 6 sentences long.

The more effort you put in the higher your chances are of winning! We will pick the scariest story of the bunch.

Lets make this a fun Octoberfest as well you guys, have fun and be safe this Halloween!

*UPDATES*

Just so everyone is aware, there is no rule against how many times one can respond to the thread. Go ahead and start a Halloween conversation, just don't spam the thread with irrelevant, negative or useless posts.

I have also decided I will give $5 crypto to a random person at the end of each week! Winners will be chosen by post count number, and I will get staff to roll for that number in convos.

10/7/22 We have our first weekly winner, congratulations to [mention=5145898] for winning $5 crypto!

Laughing Man - October 8, 2022, 7:09 am

The story recounts an experiment set in 1947 at a covert Soviet test facility. In a military-sanctioned scientific experiment, five prisoners that were deemed Enemies of the State were kept in a sealed gas chamber, with an experimental gas-based stimulant compound continually administered to keep the subjects awake for 30 consecutive days. The prisoners were falsely promised that they would be set free from the prison if they completed the experiment in the specified 30 days. The subjects behaved as usual during the initial 5 days, talking to each other and whispering to the researchers through the one-way glass, though it was noted that their discussions gradually became darker in the subject matter. After 9 days, one subject began screaming uncontrollably for hours while the others did not react to his outburst. The man screamed for so long that he tore his vocal cords, and was rendered mute as a result. When the second one started screaming, the others prevented the researchers from looking inside by pasting torn book pages and their own feces on the porthole windows. A few days passed without the researchers being able to look inside, during which the chamber was completely silent. The researchers used the intercom to test if the subjects were still alive, and got a short response of a subject expressing compliance.

On the 15th day, the researchers decided to turn off the stimulating gas and reopen the chamber. The subjects did not want the gas to turn off, for fear they would fall asleep. Upon looking inside, they discovered that the four surviving subjects had performed lethal and severe mutilation and disembowelment on themselves during the past days, including tearing off sections of skin and muscles, removing multiple abdominal internal organs, practicing self-cannibalism on themselves, as well as cannibalism of the second subject, and allowing 10 cm (4 inches) of blood and water to accumulate on the floor by jamming paper and pieces of flesh they tore from the second subject into several drains, who was found dead on the floor as soon as the chamber was opened. The subjects violently refused to leave the chamber and begged the scientists to continue administering the stimulant, murdering one soldier and severely injuring another that attempted to remove them. After eventually being removed from the chamber, all subjects were shown to exhibit extreme strength, unprecedented resistance to anaesthetics and sedatives, the ability to remain alive despite lethal injuries, and a desperate desire to stay awake and be given the stimulant. It was also found that if any one of the subjects fell asleep, they would die.

After being somewhat treated for their severe injuries, the surviving three subjects were prepared to return to the gas chamber with the stimulant by the orders of the military officials (though against the will of the researchers), with EEG monitors showing short recurring moments of brain death. Before the chamber was sealed, one of the subjects fell asleep and died, and the only subject that could speak screamed to be immediately sealed in the chamber. The military commander ordered for three other researchers to be closed inside the chamber alongside the two remaining subjects. One researcher immediately drew his gun and killed the commander and the mute subject by shooting both of them in the head, causing the other person to flee the room. With only one surviving subject, the terrified researcher explained that he would not allow himself to be locked in a room with monsters that could no longer be called people. He desperately asked what the subject was, to which the subject smiled and identified himself and the other fallen subjects as an inherent evil inside the human mind that is kept in check by the act of sleeping. After a brief pause, the researcher shot the prisoner in the heart, and with his dying breath on the floor, the subject muttered his final words; "So...nearly...free..."

My guy, the story has to be original, meaning you gotta come up with it. Can't be an already existing story on the internet. I've heard this story before while it is a good story, it will not qualify for an entry in the scary story contest as it is not original. Your post will however count towards a general entry for the giveaways.

" There was once a man named Edward, who designed and built his own perfect house. He lived in it for many years until he eventually passed away. A new family soon moved in, but whenever they went into the basement—where Edward's personal study had been—they would get the feeling that someone was watching them. One day, the father of the new family decided to fix up an old jacket, which every tailor in town had told him was beyond repair. So, he went down to the old study, laid his jacket on a chair, and then tried to see if there was anything in the old desk that could help him mend it. But the drawers were all locked, and he couldn't find a key anywhere. The next morning, he came back down to find the key on the desk, all of the drawers open, and his jacket completely fixed."

I'm Stanley HF's helper bot. The OP (original poster) of this thread wants everyone to see this page and has elected to bump it to the top of the showthread listing. Since HF doesn't want a ton of LQP (Low Quality Posts) this is the best method of bumping your content. There is a small ?yte fee for each bump. Any OP can bump any of their threads on HF from the linked icon on the top of their first post.

If you haven't already read the first post of this thread we encourage you to do so.

Thanks,
Stanley

amg64 - October 15, 2022, 2:34 am

Place = On the highway

Time = Afternoon

Members = One family in a car

Suspect = Unknown

This time on the way back from the village. My father drives. My siblings and I sat in the back. I'm joking and teasing, I don't even have to say it. For a moment, someone cried. When someone cries, my mother sitting in front also speaks up. We all kept quiet. Everyone is afraid of mom because she is fierce. As long as you open your mouth, those who cry will automatically close their mouths. The sound of sobbing disappeared. Quiet.. The tears just keep flowing.

5 minutes later it was noisy again in the car. You know, boys. In the midst of all the commotion, my sister suddenly shouted, "DAD! The car!!"

There was a fast white car heading towards us from the opposite direction. The position of the car is right on our road. Speeding up to our car. My siblings and I are scared in the back. Reach for what can be held while looking at the white car.

Dad smiled and said, "No, that's not our car."

After dad finished speaking, our cars collided. A white car just passed our car accompanied by quite strong wind and shaking. We are behind all tossing. Some were hit by the roof and some were hit by the right and left mirrors. My head also bulges when I hit the roof.

After the situation started to stabilize, we quickly turned back. The road was deserted, only our car on the road. The white car just disappeared somewhere. Throbbing needless to say. It looks like the car is about to collide in front of our eyes and suddenly the car can crash through us just like that.

When I saw the car before the collision, it looked solid like a normal car. It's only when they start to collide that it becomes like a blur. The blur is like taking a picture of something moving fast. There is a tail-like residue.

It seems that cases like this can cause accidents on the straight road if we see it and try to avoid it. If we avoid that day, we will jump off the cliff.

Wilmer - October 15, 2022, 7:22 am

As no one did it yet, I'm starting !

This is my costume for Halloween, bought the suit, the mask, the gloves, the shoes and also the bike. Regarding the bike, most of tricycles for kids I found were made in plastic, and were very weak (not sure that they would be able to carry my almost 100kg). I was lucky for the bike because it's full aluminium, not too little, the owner bought it for almost 200€, and I got it for 50 bucks almost new, best accessory for this costume I think !

Where is your costume guys ? Share it !

Happy Halloween ??

Man have to hand it to you. Amazing work there. And Happy Halloween

Junot - November 1, 2022, 2:17 am

Posting my general entry for last day, thanks for this.

Pikachu - November 1, 2022, 5:03 am

This contest had ended. I will be looking through the replies and checking to see who a tally has qualifying entries into the main costume contest and scary story contest, but sadly it doesn't look like many.

Okay now, for the lucky person to receive a permanent l33t or ub3r upgrade, [mention=2774521] if you would be so kind. Also if you can pick a second user to receive the award!

Thank you all who participated.

account_ - November 1, 2022, 9:39 am

Final entry into the contest, Thanks.

Nate - November 1, 2022, 11:16 pm

Taking another entry here.
