Now all the clips about the new gta are all over the internet. Who is excited for the latest release in the rock * franchise.

th3s3cr3t0n3 - September 20, 2022, 5:45 am

Yeah I'm pretty excited, at least just for a new instalment. It was pretty funny to see some commenting that the footage looked terrible, even though these clips aren't dated and are likely recorded with lots of 'stuff' disabled.

I think the heist/robbery system looks cool. Seems to basically be triggered free roam, and looks like you can rob all kinds of places. Nice to see they have brought back restaurants too. I'm eager to know if we'll see a 100% accessible world.

Yup, I liked that part as well. I'm also curious to see how many buildings we can enter. I doubt it would be 100% but more like 75-80%

1337GAMER - September 20, 2022, 6:57 am

I look forward to this game SO MUCH!but don't want to have to wait another 2+ years.

Predator88 - September 20, 2022, 7:11 am

I can't wait to see how hilarious all the bugs are.

GTA has always had a spot in my heart ever since the good old days when it was the over head view.

Celph - September 22, 2022, 8:22 pm

It hasn't even been announced yet which means it probably won't be released until like holiday season 2023 at least

Miropop - September 23, 2022, 12:39 pm

I certainly am. I mostly enjoyed GTA 5 (even though I didn't exactly finish it), didn't bother with online unless my group was interested in it. The leaks for 6 have looked interesting imo, been having a great time reading internet arguments about it though

DavidStrapham - September 24, 2022, 8:05 am

Cant wait for the release

Casp?r - September 24, 2022, 9:45 am yep, it's in vice city and that was like my childhood game growing up, gonna start playing rdr2 in the meantime.

webdev77 - September 24, 2022, 9:49 am

Nope. This isn't going to be out for another 1-2 years yet and it'll probably take another few months after that to not be buggy.

It should be noted the leaked videos are developer builds and were not supposed to be seen by the public at all. I don't think the game will come out in the next 2 years either. I think they'll release a trailer next year then another 2 years after that we'll see the game drop.

However, looking at the developer build videos it looks good. They have tons of little features that are used in FiveM servers.

THEKING_707 - September 27, 2022, 8:40 pm

Won't be until a while but so far it's looking good from the leaks

WildBrian - September 27, 2022, 11:32 pm

Can't wait for GTA 6, hope it's going to be as good as GTA V

Cinq - September 28, 2022, 6:55 am

I have always been excited about new GTA releases, but honestly the leak was pretty disappointing. Not sure what I was expecting to see but it wasn't what I had in mind.

Hopefully once it's released I'll have a better feel

Creative senux - October 8, 2022, 7:28 am

Don't even start. GTW 6 OPEN WORLD WILL END UP BEING MASSIVE AND it may be a new start to a whole new AI. If they put real life in it.

Despize - October 9, 2022, 3:27 pm

Hopefully it will be worth the wait! Is there any previews out yet?

Not that I've personally seen, although I could be wrong... I believe Rockstar is keeping things a little tighter with this release just due to the fact of how great it is supposed to be, and how much different it'll be from previous releases.

I am personally looking very forward to GTA 6 being released. Can't wait.

Cheers,
~Trill

I'm sure they will to man! They did not disappoint with GTA 5.

I'm still To. This. Day. Loving the hell out of GTA 5. No my friend, they definitely did not!

Maybe I'll be seeing you around the world of GTA 6 hahaha you never know, coincidences happen all the damn time.

Cheers,

Definitely agree with you there friend!

Always nice to have a refresh of a game isn't it? ah the nostalgia...

Cheers,

I still play GTA V more than any other game. I've been waiting on 6 to drop forever and a day. The NPC interactions are supposed to be in-depth and life-like. As in, much more than just the odd, "What's goin on my doo?", thrown out. I read that Rockstar is spending countless hours to make a landscape that includes hundreds of buildings that will actually be enterable. I'm excited beyond belief about this game.

Juoku - October 11, 2022, 3:10 am

I'm sure it'll be awesome, I wonder how it's going to work with the online game and existing accounts.

Guess we'll have to wait and see ;)

SMMFlare - October 14, 2022, 9:11 am

I'm super excited, apart from the years wait time.

Honestly from someone coming from the 2k franchise you guys have got it good haha. GTA at least has scaled their map sizes and mechanics from major releases, 4 to 5 was insane

True, but Rockstar makes a huge income from GTA online. They were getting record profits for the online portion, thus not wanting to release GTA 6 until the income started to decline.

Upgrader - October 14, 2022, 10:15 am

Hoping it will be good, didn't play much GTA V but 6 is looking nice.

Grim - October 14, 2022, 10:23 am well i think its gonna be a longg time but from the content thats been leaked it looks really good so far

WackaLaw - October 15, 2022, 11:07 pm

Looking forward to it so much, just hoping it will be worth the wait in my opinion we dont need GTA 6. GTA 5 has a lot of potential and still has plenty of glitches that they need to work on fixing before working on a new game.

Crowned - October 29, 2023, 4:23 pm

At this point - not that much anymore. I was kinda hyped when there were leaks about it, but considering that it'll take at least an extra year or so, just kills the hype (at least for me). Of course, the longer they work for it - the less bugs will occur.
