Thread: Anybody got any tips or tricks?

Been playing the Hack Game casually over the last few weeks. Gaining xp and money here and there. Anybody got some good tips or tricks?

Usually I complete a mission whenever I check on it, or I just spam the NASA hack whenever it comes back up. Recently upgraded my battery charging speed and capacity, definitely makes a difference in the charge speed at least.

Yeah, I hit it about every 7-8 tries. Sometimes more sometimes less, it just gives you so much xp compared to the rest that it makes it worth it.

Think i might just switch it up and do nasa from now on, what level was you when you first hit it?

I'd say I first started running just that around level 4. Definitely a very long slow grind.

I'll just have to keep at it

Honestly still trying to figure my way around things in this game.. so no.

Although, if anyone had any extra tips or tricks they'd like to share with me... would be greatly appreciated!

Cheers,
~Trill

Just keep on trying then switch to missions daily so it will gives you more xp on your daily activities.

Ive only been successful once for the nasa and it gave me 200xp, the 30% one i succeed probably 55% and that give me 50xp

Don't lose hope bro just keep on going every now and then, you will see more progress daily with missions and nasa activities simultaneously.

I feel like this game has tons of potential, but just really needs some love. Like it legit takes months on end to make meaningful gains.
