SIM-4102357 is really amateur but you can get some moves (how to not play) from him

flavoral - September 21, 2022, 6:22 pm

I know OxaByte and SIM-3343347 play frequently

Charlie Sheen - September 21, 2022, 7:06 pm

Just randomly got the urge to play, so I went to Chess.com and played a quick round. Forgot how much I enjoyed it.

JTheRipper - September 21, 2022, 8:12 pm

I play chess.com quite often, however it doesn't feel the same compared to real chess.

DashPHP - September 21, 2022, 8:46 pm

Used to play a lottt back in highschool. Started playing a few games here and there. Might consider dedicating more..

570RM - September 21, 2022, 8:52 pm

I used to play chess online (chess.com) and offline (with friends) back in high school and recently during lock down.

Been following a lot of the drama recently, have you?

Drama has been clogging my youtube algo so hard, I only subscribe to GothamChess but I have so many videos from Hikaru, magnus stream clips etc for watching one video on Hans.

Back on topic, I love playing 3 min blitz on Lichess. Not very good tho, sitting at ~1320 ranked

I know you gotta protect the queen.

[mention=5037217] the AI is wanting to learn how to play Chess, someone should force the AI to work 10,000 hours worth of Chess footage to see if its better than a real person.

Juoku - September 21, 2022, 10:43 pm

I haven't played in years, I used to love it, and I was good too.

I actually never played online, only with real people, participated in competitions, I even got to 4th place in a national competition when I was 9 (it was a competition up to the age of 13).

I think that I stopped playing when I was 12 or so..

Livewire - September 21, 2022, 10:47 pm

I've wanted to get into it, but it doesn't seem a fit for me.
Maybe in the future.

Parks - September 21, 2022, 11:12 pm

I'd love to get into chess again, I never invested enough time to learn strategies though. Just looked at the board for long times lol.

SecretAchiever101 - September 22, 2022, 4:59 am

? am down to play if anyone wants to

I am around 1400 on Lichess in rapid and 1100 in a blitz.

I saw Carlsen forfeited against Niemann, this is shaking up the chess world. Not sure if Hans is cheating, he did have a poor follow up after that game. But again Carlsen didn't play anywhere near his usual level so...

Bleachh - September 23, 2022, 5:32 pm

I play on chess.com and definitely find it quite addictive. Avoid playing late at night, I lose one or two games and then proceed to rage and tank 1-200 rating in less than an hour.

I don't however really try to improve by studying any theory, I just play games in my free time. Anyone here put time into studying the game? If so what kind of improvements have you seen in your rating.

I love chess, but hardly play it anymore. Hard to find the time.

I haven't looked at many chess resources for improving my game, but while I was away I picked up this book: <https://www.amazon.com/Bobby-Fischer-Teaches-Chess/dp/0553263153>

Without a shred of doubt improved my chess game pretty drastically. The best part, it's not a traditional book lecturing you about chess, its simply a series of situations that you need to analyze and determine the next best move, and the following page gives you the answer and explains why.

This took me from "blindly flailing hoping to get lucky" to actually approaching games with strategy and being able to react appropriately to my opponents strategy.

My peak ELO rating is 1700, I am not that good, I understand the concept of developing, initial traps, discovered checks, sacrifice traps etc.

I get more lost after move 20 or so, near the end game. I often play rapids, 10 + 0, I get salty in the game, real gamer moments....

My in game depth is somewhat 5 moves ahead, unless I play classical, I can go for 10 moves ahead...

I can tell for a fact I played more than 3000 games

icole - October 12, 2022, 4:31 pm

I think I'm going to start playing chess again today since I just had surgery on my knee and don't have much to do.

Discreet - October 12, 2022, 4:43 pm

I play occasionally, I'm not that good. I don't know any openers.

StuffSneak - December 1, 2022, 5:04 am

I am not really a chess player/follower however I like Alex. Does that count?

Seaking - December 1, 2022, 6:15 am

I've enjoyed it, but i'm not very good. The last time I played was high school. I've found a lot of people don't know how to play chess. That might be different since netflix released that show.
