Thread: HOW TO TRADE CRYPTO USING PRICE ACTION - THE ONLY GURANTEED WAY TO PROFIT FROM CRYPTO

murt - September 24, 2022, 2:06 pm

It is now! Let's develop your day trading and scalping abilities for stocks, futures, FX, and cryptocurrencies!

You will obtain a fresh perspective on trading with my PRICE ACTION COURSE. Fair value gaps and imbalances are excellent trading strategies.

QML, sometimes referred to as Quasimodo, is a widely used price action trading system. Every trader, in my opinion, must master this trading technique.

I will teach you using videos, live trading and 1 on 1.

I will guarantee you will make profits with this as you will be applying strategies that Wall Street and smart money industries use themselves.

You will be able to open charts and immediately spot SNIPER ENTRIES and SETUPS without depending on all the inconsistent indicators, groups, signals you find everywhere that make you win 1 time and loss 9 times out of 10.

Content:

There will be a total of 13 sessions, 10-15 minutes each

HOWEVER, I can GURANTEE you will start making profit by end of first session/video.

Who is this for:

- 1- People who never ever traded
- 2- People who tried everything else and lost money
- 3- People who want to improve their trades
- 4- People who want to learn instead of depending on signals and indicators that just don't work.
- 5- People who want to learn PRICE ACTION - Which is known for being the most successful trading strategy since 20 years.

Availability :

- I am available 24/7 and will teach you according to YOUR own time convinces. you will be able to START your FIRST trade almost immediately and the Next videos/sessions will be how to make those entries EVEN BETTER.

PRICES:

- $60 for basic price action. This will be enough for you to make profit. Think of this as a trial. You will want to buy the whole course after seeing with your own eyes how simple it is.
- $100 for whole course - You will be able to trade like Wall Street traders at the comfort of your home.

NOTE: These prices are not fixed and are subject to change depending on the interest of subscribers.

Please stop paying for indicators. Join and learn how to trade.

If you're prepared, lets start!

[b]I have received a vouch copy from murt to the video course partially.

First i want to say that the course, is a video course, so not a PDF, which is a huge + for me, i hate reading through tons of pages but i don't mind watching videos for hours on end.

murt has explained to me that his neighbour, who is also his trading mentor, who is actually a professional teacher, teaching trading to people in a classroom, has helped with these videos intensively and that murt has decided to offer that knowledge, with us.

Informative?

The voice over has an foreign accent but knows fluent english so it doesn't botter at all.

The video course is very informative, and definitely helps people understand patterns and trading in general, it teaches you really a lot.

I haven't received the full course yet however what i have received, really makes things that are usually very complicated, a lot easier to understand and teaches you important (and lesser important) patterns rather quickly in a professional but easy to understand manner.

Is this only a video course?

No this isn't just a video course, murt also answers all of your questions himself when you don't understand a specific part in a video, and he is willing to go through the videos together with you, if you really wish that to happen.

He also performs live trading (screenshare) while explaining, if you want to gain that extra service from murt which could be very informative as you would so live action happening then, a real trader applying patterns and strategies explaiend in the videos, onto the field.

For who is this course?

The video course is what you need if you want to start trading cryptos properly and educated, also if you've been trading crypto for a while but still lack basic pattern and trading knowledge, then i would also still recommend this video course as it really teaches you a lot of knowledge.

What is different between these videos and the ones on youtube?

The main differences are the fact that on youtube they tend to be either very short and lacking a lot of information, or to be extremely long (2+ hours) and simply being too advanced to understand for beginners, for example videos about price action, these videos are between 10-15 minutes long each video, and explain the exact same but more straight to the point, while giving you the required information, in an easy to understand manner.

Does Bullup recommend getting this course for the offered price?

Honestly, yes.

The $60 price action package, is indeed as said by murt enough to start making good profits while trading.

You would have no issues turning that $60 into profits overtime so i consider it to be worth it for sure.

And fo $40 extra, having the full course, and murt who is willing to go on live screenshare with you actually bringing you into the field perform trades together with you, definitely is worth it as well because lets be honest, $40 is going at mc donalds and it's gone, might as well invest it into learning a new career, how to make a lot more money long term by crypto trading.

I also want to mention that i like that this teaches people an actual skill that can really make them money properly, shot term and long term, and it's not just some get rich quick money ebook.

Spend your money on learning skills or invest into creating a real business, either way i consider this course to be worth getting into for sure.

Do you have anything negative to say about this as well?

Yes, i'm not sure if his mentor is on Youtube already or has the plans to go on Youtube, but his mentor has put a lot of effort into these videos clearly and i heard the mentor telling you to subscribe once in the videos that i received.

However i've searched on youtube and could find 0.

Either way that doesn't change my mind about this being worth the money as it's not only about the videos, you are also paying murt for his time answering your questions and doing live trading with you together, that alone should be worth the $100 already with the videos being an informative basis to go on.

I keep it simple, if you want to learn a lot more about crypto trading and actually do trading knowing what patterns to look for (or look out for), and what strategies to apply, and you have funds to invest in both this course and crypto trading, and have time to obtain a new skill, then buy this.

Disclaimer: I have only received a part of the video course so far.

Nice knowledge to learn. GLWS OP. Definitely been making a killing myself this past month on spy puts ?

Tim Do - September 25, 2022, 2:14 am it looks too hard because we have to learn. can we automate it?

murt - September 25, 2022, 2:45 am

I will gurantee you one 15-20 minutes after my teaching you will be able to hit awesome profitable setups

Note; you are not required to know all the lessons. You can make epic entries from first lesson itself. The more lessons the less recoil of weapon so more accurate.

Hi murt,

If i pay for Basic and find it interesting, can i upgrade to Whole course for the price difference($40)?

Im from a shitty place so my USD savings are not high enough, and dont want to "waste" $100 at first instance.

Thanks

Of course, if you like (which I can almost guarantee as you will understand the concepts in baby language) you can always pay the remaining 40$ and get the whole course.

If you are interested, open a contract with BTC/ETH/USDT or any other coin of your preference you would like to pay using.

does this only apply to Crypto or anything like Forex as well?

(Sep 25, 2022 02:41 PM)Tim Do Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) does this only apply to Crypto or anything like Forex as well?

It is forex and stocks techniques that work on crypto actually. This is price action. Anything in the world that has prices, this works on it. Wallstreet traders only use price action.

what time frame we should use for this technique?

can we easily identify this setup without any sort of indicators?

if i have trouble identifying this setup can i show you my chart and you can tell me what is the issue?

All timeframes. You will learn how to incorporate high and low timeframes for sniper-good setups.

Yes whole point of this course is so you never ever use indicators. In fact if any indicator or signal is presented to you, you will be able to immediately know if its true or not based on what I teach you.

Of course I am available 24/7 and as my buyers know, I won't leave you until you make your own first profit or until you tell me enough :D. Open contract if you're ready Thanks a lot.

I know about the functionality of all the trading tools, so now i need the trading knowledge.

Will buy during next month once i get my check!
