Thread: Domain & Linkedin Email Scrape

You have a service to offer to a company whom you think will be interested in your offer and you really want to reach out to them.

The only problem is that you don't have contact information for anyone who works at that company.

That sounds pretty disappointing right?

You search online but can't find anyone who works there. See below using our internal script, a search for contacts at WPP.

What if there was an easy way for you to find professional email addresses from any website in seconds so you could connect with the people that matter for your business?

For only €0.01 per email - Bring in new customers today!

We will scrape the domains thus when identifying decision-makers, we will filter your list for only the most qualified prospects and arrange a meeting in minutes!

We also can complete your data, if you have a series of first and last names, we can find their emails!

After your order, please send us your domain(s) and department if applicable!

We can search for Hyper-Target Leads Using Our Market Based Search Engine - We will get double verified emails, validated in real-time for a 0% bounce rate AND Phone numbers (where applicable)

Imagine wanting to get emails, phone numbers, and social profiles for everyone that...

is a CEO anywhere in the world within the Computer Software vertical with 11+ employees that also spends $1k/mo on Adwords who is hiring for marketing help and who just recently announced an integration partnership for example?

OR - Imagine wanting to get emails, phone numbers, and social profiles for:

A specific person

Or for all HR leaders at a specific list of 100 companies

Or anyone in marketing at Hubspot.
Or everyone who has worked in engineering at Amazon
