Thread: What kind of phone do you have? iiFinance - October 10, 2022, 7:50 am

So Apple is releasing the iPhone 14 and I still have my iPhone XR. I see no purpose whatsoever on buying the new iPhone. I just don't get people who go out there way to get the newest iPhone each year....especially paying $1.5k for a damn phone, it's absurd to me. You can buy an iPhone 12 on Ebay for like $400/$500. I can easily afford the newest iPhones too but I just don't see a point of wasting unnecessary money.

I know Androids have tons of cool features on there phones but most apps I use run better on iOS or pertain to it vs androids. I also don't need anything special, as long as I can text, call and browse the web.

So what kind of phones do you guys rock with?

Laughing Man - October 10, 2022, 7:52 am

I run a Google Pixel 6 as my daily. Considering doing the BB trade in deal to get a Pixel 7 and only pay $129 for the upgrade but not sure.. still on the fence.

N - October 10, 2022, 7:53 am iPhone 14 Pro.

Imagine not owning an iPhone and it's almost 2023.

mickeh - October 10, 2022, 8:03 am

Imagine owning a basic bitch, non-customizable, apple ecosystem trash. Btw there is no real difference between the 13 pro max and the 14. So you wasted more money for a newer number. Ya know as apple sheep do.

Samsung S20+5G. Thinking of a change though. Just not sure as to what.

Android = Third World Shit

majority of android users can't afford Apple, or live in a country where android is dominated because of how cheap it is.

Next thing you know you'll be saying IOS is better than linux. Also how you guys loving they Pegasus malware written for your phone? Z Fold 3. I've owned many android, iphones, and windows phones. Thought i'd give the new foldables a try. So far i've been pretty happy with it. I tend to use my iphone for work and android personally. I would still use my windows phones, but MS really dropped the ball on them.

Yeah usually because someone can pay $1000 once per 3 years instead of 2-3. If you think wealth is displayed by spending money on things than you've never met a real wealthy person.

Samsung's phones are 899-1300

I don't use Samsung but I guess you didn't bother to read. I paid $600 for my phone and it'll still rofl stomp your 14 pro in specs and experience all day long.

I saw and considered it, but I really like to see how long I can keep the same phone. Kind of getting upset with how fast they are pushing out new phones. I know all manufacturers do it, I just wish they would dedicate themselves to a phone for longer than 11 months.
