Anyone else find this interesting?

A lot information to verify and fact check but if all he says in the video is true, that's pretty good.

Truth - October 10, 2022, 8:53 pm

Its Bitcoin or bust, everyone who been in the space longer than 10 years knows this.

Shitpple or Ripple might get a decent pump but ultimately, if gov't get behind crypto they'll release their own version and distribute it for a 1:1 redemption of their fiat.

Bitcoin or bust, never forget, long term, bitcoin or bust

Seems they've already got behind XRP if all the things in the video is true, they have a lot of important people in there pocket.

But I do agree somewhat with BTC, but XRP looks like it could be massive, I don't mean just for investing I mean the future, the new standard in 2030.

Prettykitty - October 10, 2022, 10:27 pm

Lots of coins piquing my interest... xmr seems neat too.

RsGoldKing - October 10, 2022, 11:15 pm

Qatar which is currently one of wealthiest countries has already initiated the use of ripple network in its test phase over swift. It may take some time, but my view of xrp usecase is very optimistic.

Omniscient - October 11, 2022, 10:17 am

That's bullshit.

First, a lot of those relationships were 5-7 years ago. When Ripple Labs basically spread out XRP for cheap to companies which is why they are under an SEC lawsuit now. And them touting relationships with banks and WEF is a complete negative to me. This just looks like more XRP propaganda imho.

Quote: Seems they've already got behind XRP if all the things in the video is true, they have a lot of important people in there pocket.

Except these people aren't in Ripple's pockets. XRP will never be dominant. If anything Ripple Labs might get contract to build CBDC's for institutions using their technology. XRP itself based on their own blockchain data must remain cheap in price to function well. A $10 XRP would destroy the cost of transactions. So even if XRP does get utilized, do not expect it to moon. It is not a store-of-value. Nor does it have any smart contract capabilities. Since XRP was launched there has hundreds of better projects released that are more suited to the needs of governments and institutions than XRP.

Quote: Unlike most cryptocurrencies out there that cater to peer-to-peer needs, Ripple was made to connect banks, payment providers and digital asset exchanges, enabling real-time settlement expeditions and lower transaction fees.

People completely misunderstand Ripple all the time.

Stay away from this.

Lmao, I laughed so hard at the video, still not buying XRP though.

MOE - October 11, 2022, 11:01 am

My biggest alt coin bag is XRP, I don't know about XRP being the "#1 crypto" and I don't understand why everyone cares about "beating" bitcoin. Stop treating the crypto space like a war zone, there is a lot of stock market similarities in the space & utility cases for MANY cryptos... anyone who only thinks one coin is coming out on top is clueless.

SandboxEvader - October 11, 2022, 12:39 pm

Bitcoin, Monero and ERGO are the most useful. Used to be eth instead of ergo with it's smart contracts but now it's becoming regulated..

Refusal - October 11, 2022, 1:05 pm

Im holding a decent amount of XRP right now. its very volatile right now bouncing around between .47 and .53

One of those coins that I dont mind investing in. I feel it will gain alittle traction after the lawsuit is over with.

Sudsy - October 11, 2022, 2:20 pm

Haven't held ripple since like 2017. I remember a crazy arbitrage opportunity back then using Korean exchanges where here in the US the price peaked at like $3.80 or so and it was nearly $5 over there.

SIM-5049184 - October 11, 2022, 8:45 pm

I have never had an XRP wallet, I never will.

Blockonome - October 12, 2022, 4:04 am

Ripple is not going anywhere, from my perspective, might have been interesting years ago, but there are a minimum of 10, if not hundreds of coins, that can deliver what Ripple can, but better and cheaper and with more utility behind it.

BiggL - October 12, 2022, 5:39 am

Bought 10,000 XRP late june of this year, planning on just forgetting about it and seeing how it goes.

I think there are just so many more interesting projects that exist to invest into that make XRP look like a shitcoin. You likely invested $3-4k for those 10k tokens. Seems like you're in the black. Ripple-idiots might pump XRP back to $1 eventually but long-term that money might be better off simply in BTC or even ETH. Heck, LTC right now at $55 imho is one of the most attractive buys.

Appreciate the input boss man, had some extra funds at the time and the price looked pretty to me so I decided to buy and forget for a while, wanting to hold for a few years as I have "counted it as a loss" and just want to see where it goes, my research may be incorrect but I definitely feel like there is a future for XRP.

Will definitely get my hands on some LTC.

SecureOp - October 13, 2022, 4:13 am

I just hate their approach, they can still 'pump' but just based on principle I can't touch them.

Koyote - October 13, 2022, 8:45 am

I have a fairly significant amount that I bought in early 2017 and have been getting paid interest on so it's been growing. If it does pop up to a decent amount, I'll be laughing on my way to the bank, but if not it wouldn't be a huge loss.

Tizen - October 14, 2022, 7:43 am

I bought a 5-figure sum of XRP for $.50 around a year ago. It's on my ledger, and I'm holding it for at least a decade. Is XRP the future? I don't know.

illusive - October 16, 2022, 5:05 pm

I've never had ripple and don't think im getting it anytime soon

Blazin - July 13, 2023, 6:41 pm

I told people about the possibility of Ripple / XRP being big in the future with a twitter post.

Ripple just won today against the sec, and is up 58% today, and 120% this year, earlier it was up even more.

<https://www.cnbc.com/2023/07/13/xrp-surges-after-judge-delivers-a-huge-win-to-ripple-in-its-case-against-the-sec.html>

So let me requote, "Now, does ripple look like it's going anywhere?" Watch the twitter video in the OP too.

I don't know what will happen, I also don't hold a lot of ripple, but just interesting regardless, we'll see if the sec appeals this.
