Thread: Crypto Casino Source Code

legendary1337 - October 11, 2022, 12:58 am

Hello world.

I am selling my crypto casino website (source code) because I need some money right now to move to another country.

The casino works flawless and has a bunch of features to grow it easily such as:

- Option to add coupons via admin panel which can be limited by the lvl you need to have to use those coupons
- Option to start daily / weekly races
- Option for chat trivia
- option to start free money rain in chat
- affiliate system on the site
- manual / automated withdraw system
- deposit via crypto
- 2 house games, crash and roulette,
- 2 custom made pvp games

Also has Admin Panel with bunch of features. DEMO: shuffle.gg

what's the biggest difference besides it being decentralized and no licensing? youre still earning a huge amount of profit if you have good marketing. i want to own a crypto casino company and not sure where to start lol

Well this script is perfect if you want to start out. Every big casino started gray hat like this (they took only crypto as payment so they didnt need to worry for the license part) After they grow bigger you can afford to license it and add multiple legit payments and start a real business.

Yes, even without license i know casinos who make 300k a month and they have 4 house games. The license is just if you want to push it to the next level.

Which chain is this made on? are contracts audited (secure) ?
can we chat on some IM app regarding this?

It is decentralized nobody cares. And if you are paranoid just block US Ips from entering the site. :)

You would also need some type of gambling licenses to do this legally, but GLWS.

Yea but nothing can happen to you as long you keep it decentralized. But as you said. If you want to push it further and go legal mode, yes, you will need a license.

I am curious what you mean by "it's decentralized no need to worry?", how is it decentralized, because it only accepts crypto as deposits?

Might be interested.
