Executable file extensions such as .com/.scr/.bat.jar/.pif/IMG ect will be blocked automatically by many email service providers.

Embed? No, although fileexe.jpeg is still achievable while being an executable. An extension spoofer is the tool used to accomplish this.

Totally agree with Dyne statement. I seen many fake videos that converta an .exe file to a chosen .jpeg file and it would execute the .exe when open the .jpeg.

Don't fall for such scams,they will take your money and infect your system

By the way i have a fud screenshot_blablah.scr, not even yahoo will let it go thru. Like i said before,mail server block executable extensions.

Sadly, its not possible. But on a brighter note, javascript can run in svgs if I remember correctly :)

here is a link to a pastebin that contains svg code with js in it as POC (open it in raw and save file, then rename to something.txt and upload to https://svgur.com/ to see js in action)

Not possible. Just not.

Yes it is possible , you can used binder to bind keylogger to pdf or jpg file

I am skeptical. What binder does that? Have you tried it yourself?
