Thread: Staff and Mentors

Omniscient - October 13, 2022, 6:26 pm

All Staff and Mentors on HF have been completely removed. This is a time of transition. It's easier to do with a clean slate.

I want to take a moment to thank all Staff and Mentors for their time and dedication. My actions in no way reflect the wondering job you've done. I thank you but I'm looking to rebuild.

Unfortunately, I never got to see anyone in action except the owner. I've reached out to staff before, and they told me something was not against policy, but when I reached out to Omniscient he handled it, so it's interesting how different people understand the rules, even among staff. This solo project makes sense in that regard, and I am happy to stick around and watch it unfold.

Truth - October 13, 2022, 10:46 pm

Mentors were useless but staff were active. When I msged any of them they usually replied or took action if needed. I know Eagle was managing some higher level tasks like writing the Help Docs and what not.

It's true that many decisions were left for Omni to decide but I still think that there are trolls and multis on a daily basis that are just too many to handle solo.

I wouldn't say all mentors were useless. Some did abuse their powers at times, however most were able to keep a clear mindset and not let some BS drama get in the way of taking action accordingly.

That's my current state. It's hard to watch something you've practically grown up with change so dramatically and in my personal opinion, a negative way. Dang Ive missed so much.

Does this mean I will finally step up and take on the lead moderator role? I accept.

Thank you.

The most annoying part of you being staff would be the ridiculous amount of awards that you have. Your posts be long af. ??

I immediately checked this page because this is where I used to look for someone to report to. but dang boi, now I only have one choice.

Waiting for the new update and thank you to all staff and mentors that serve this forum.

Omniscient - October 14, 2022, 9:09 pm

Rumors that I sold hf are not true. I was saying in Convo anyone with 50 BTC can buy the site. No one did. So don't worry, hf not sold.

It's funny what an impact someone in a high place can have by just saying something random, people instantly turn into gossip girls.

The HF news report that Sudsy got closed for showing his dick should have been enough to not believe what anyone says. However we do the conundrum of not believing me when I said it wasn't sold either. Hmm!

Well, at least you have your answer now :p

For some reason all I imagine if you got Staff is seeing member after member with a warning and reason of: "Not Pink" ?

Let's be honest here, Omni leaving HF is comparable to Dana White leaving the UFC... it'll never be the same.

Yes, for now. Hf 100% me doing everything. And I do not have any plans to change that anytime soon. The staff we had were great. Their removal wasn't about replacing them. It was about me being more involved.

A lot happening on site right now. Interesting to see where this goes.

Also, thanks to all former staff for their service, respect you all.

Can't wait to see what happens next, as these big decisions typically change the site for the better. 12 years here, with 10 of them being a mentor.

Honestly, as an admin of another online forum with over 2m members, this is a necessity for change and growth.

Many team members become complacent and you have to look for a new direction.

I look forward to seeing where HF goes after the recent changes.

Kind regards,
Zulu.

To be honest with you this makes me happy to read. I've always thought your involvement in the community over the years was one of the things that made HF the way it was. There's not many forums or sites out there where the actual owner, not admins or staff, but the actual owner of the forum/site is actually involved in the community, so it's always been really nice to see. I imagine this change will only be that but better.

(Oct 16, 2022 01:10 PM)Admin Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Yeah, that time is over.
It'll be kinda funny in the future when you have a bunch of people calling you Omni and the new members won't have a clue who they're referring to lol.

Even then, you gotta take into account the illegal blackhat activity rules that HF has in place.
Random people come and break those rules especially in the Marketplace. Unfortunately people will always be foolish and come to a public forum requesting illegal services/activities.

Factor8 hasn't been an admin in years now, though he was a mentor this whole time yeah.

Often ex-staff members became a mentor afterwards.
