For me are dogs? i relly hate cats...

Koyote - October 16, 2022, 1:31 pm

Dogs, loyal and actually fun to be around!

?ord Frieza - October 16, 2022, 1:34 pm

Dogs all the way. Cats are ehh

Juoku - October 16, 2022, 2:03 pm

Dogs, I have a huge problem with cats.

Their whole presence pisses me off, how they do whatever the fuck they want and it's alright, how they walk on whatever they want, scratch whatever they want... Sure not all cats are the same but the majority are assholes and are harder to train than dogs

Prayz - October 16, 2022, 2:07 pm

Dogs. Super loyal, will relax with you, will play with you.

Cats are just fucking mean

Cap - October 16, 2022, 2:08 pm

Dogs all the way for me. I honestly can't stand cats.

LeetSpeed - October 16, 2022, 6:11 pm

Cats because they do strange things.

Deany - October 16, 2022, 6:12 pm

Well, I watch cat videos all day online, so you know my answer.

Plotting to kill you is very strange indeed. ???

lol - October 16, 2022, 6:23 pm

I love cats more than dogs.

How can you hate cats lol

shakur123 - October 16, 2022, 7:31 pm

Aeowulf - October 16, 2022, 7:35 pm

Definitely the ones that are posted in the correct forum: Pets and Animals

Mac Miller - October 16, 2022, 7:52 pm

I love cats. especially a really cuddly one. Such cute men

jcole - October 16, 2022, 8:20 pm

I love cats and dogs, but will have to choose dogs for this one. I have my pitbull cross Rosco with me as an emotional support dog since surgery close to 20 hours a day by my side.

SweeTs - October 16, 2022, 8:21 pm

Definitely dogs, I like cats as well; but more so when a friend has one and I can just play with it when I'm over. The litterboxes just smell really strong to me so I wouldn't like one in my house but for just visiting other people I can't smell their cats.

Plus, I'd get a cat that just fucks off and has a leave me alone attitude lol. With my past luck with dogs, they always like to be close to someone and loving etc. I have a Doberman right now and I couldn't ask for a better friend tbh, they're just more loyal and playful in my eyes. Not to mention if it came down to a protective situation the dog would be better for sure lol

SIM-4932765 - October 16, 2022, 8:24 pm

I love both, I have a dog and a cat, but I prefer dogs, they are more loyal and they love attention.

Charlie Sheen - October 16, 2022, 9:06 pm

I have a dog and a cat, I prefer dogs but my cat is so much more chill.

Nate - October 16, 2022, 9:46 pm

Much more of a dog man, can't really stand cats

Upgrader - October 16, 2022, 9:47 pm

Personally a cat person, I've had both.

TB12GOAT - October 16, 2022, 10:00 pm

Cats as they are more independent. Love dogs though.

StuffSneak - October 16, 2022, 11:43 pm

I do prefer dogs but I don't hate cats nevertheless.

Looks fantastic! My cat is lazy af, spend all day sleeping or eating, sometimes he feels the need to run so he starts running for no reason, lovely.

That sounds like a cool cat. ?

SecureOp - October 17, 2022, 5:36 am

Catdog, meaning a cat with a dog personality.

StuffSneak - October 17, 2022, 6:01 am

We also have a cat at home. It's not really our cat but she is at our back yard most of the times whenever she needs food/milk. And always rubbing herself on our legs and stuff when we go out.

Seaking - October 17, 2022, 6:04 am

Dogs over cats. I don't hate cats, but every cat I've ever been around has bitten or clawed the fuck out of me and the owners are always like "aww they are playing".

Hell nawww, if a cat does that to me I'm not coming back over there unless that thing is in a room or something.

It's not like they attack me, but it never fails that they scratch up my hands or grab my leg and bite it. I feel bad because I've accidentally kicked someones cat on reflex for doing this. On a rare occasion they will just sit in my lap, but usually they want to play.

I have had the once. That cat drew some kind of art with her paws on my bare legs.

Some cats can be nightmares though. Most cats I've ever owned were very chill and had no temperamental issues. I recently had to rehome a cat because of my dogs, she would piss urine mixed with blood all over the carpet everywhere in the house. I took her to the vet thinking she had a UTI or something, but the vet said she was fine. The neighbors fell in love with her and they had three cats already so when I moved they asked if they could have her. I miss her. ?

ariluvs - May 18, 2025, 7:06 pm

Crystal Lord - May 21, 2025, 8:22 am

I love both of them, but if i had to chose then dogs.

Treyman77 - May 21, 2025, 12:01 pm

Dogs for sure lololol

?ystem - May 21, 2025, 7:00 pm

I'm definitely for cats rather than dogs. It's just the way I was raised. Cats are far more self confident and they flaunt it because, as any cat owner will confirm, because they know they're the king/queen and they let you to be in their kingdom.

Aithan - May 21, 2025, 7:14 pm

Cats are definitely way less maintenance & can be just as loving as a dog.

Dogs are basically mini babies.

Walking with them, playing with them, picking up their shit, etc.

Dogs all the way

Fish - May 22, 2025, 4:01 pm

Ones a lot more work than the other, but I'd still probably go with dogs

scarf - May 23, 2025, 3:01 pm

i like both! they are equally awesome

K1. - May 23, 2025, 3:05 pm

Both

Dogs are real ones

Cats got some swag to them

korimori - May 23, 2025, 3:48 pm

dogs are nice, cats are grumpy

Mercury - May 23, 2025, 4:50 pm

Really depends on the breeds for me, but in the end I would probably say that I'm a dog person. I have a huge thing for Dachshunds. They are my absolute favorite little critters.

delkic69 - May 25, 2025, 5:14 am
