Thread: NFT WL MARKETPLACE SERVER + TWITTER \(3K SOL REVENUE IN 5 MONTHS!\)

SIM-2273342 - October 17, 2022, 5:32 pm

Title says it -- looking to sell this server. I know there are some deep pockets on here. If you know someone with funding that is interested, let me know, will provide commission to contacts and references.

Server acts as a middleman for all WL transactions and sales -- MM are designated by server owner and receive a % of all transaction costs. Owner can also make a significant amount by shoutouts/promotions for projects in the NFT space.

At the moment, server only taps into the SOL marketplace; if you were to breach into ETH, it'd make a significant amount more.

There is no set price, but we are looking for mid-to-high five-figures at a minimum. DM if interested. [contract=tid]Start Contract[/contract]

Curious as to your reason for selling if it goes so well with your business theme?

Solana Projects aren't minting out, less hype and Magiceden has literally killed the Solana Ecosystem at the moment. It's going to take until after christmas at this stage now for the market to recover. People are scared with 0% royalties so a lot more projects will go for larger mints seeing as there is minimal creator royalties now.

Hello sir, Is this still available

Owners need money irl for a house and would prefer that. On top of that, they've honestly just grown lazy and don't have much interest in continuing to run the server and MM deals (which is where the revenue comes in) and would prefer to sell it for a lump sum than continue to deal with people day in and day out.

In terms of SOL market, that's just not true. So long as SOL projects exist, a WL Marketplace will continue to thrive. Again, if one were to move this into ETH market as well, that'd be huge for profit structure and size.

is the 3k revenue actual revenue you made from the middleman fee? or is that just the amount pushed through the marketplace

It's 3k SOL, not $3k (in case that wasn't clear). And that's revenue made purely from MMing (not inclusive of selling promotions).

Listen, it's worth 8000$ at ATH - NFTs are worth nothing currently so it quite fits :)

As long as my life doesn't depend on earnings from a NFT discord server, I'm good ?

It must be tough living life with current NFT market situations, including removal of royalty fees about anywhere.

Feels like NFT creators need a new way of earning - Maybe a real utility?

Welcome to the real world my friend :)

You're too poor to buy a server, something tells me my quality of life is far better.

EDIT: You shill dogshit projects like a poor retard.
