Thread: Gamer turned pirate turned hacker

XiNDiR - October 19, 2022, 3:23 pm

Lifetime gamer. I graduated from consoles as a kid to PCs as an adult when I could afford my own. PC gamer, the master race. I built my first PC and learned how to fix it myself when I fucked it up. Then I started pirating everything I ever wanted and jailbroke all my devices.

These days I'm fixing and hacking JPay tablets. I say hacking now because this requires more than just following instructions. To fix some problems and come up with original ideas to protect your shit, you need to know your way around terminal commands and the inner workings of an android device.

I'm glad to finally be on hackforums. I hope to help others when I can and learn from the pros here.

See ya around.
