I hope Silva finishes the fight in the early rounds. I think he'll tire him out and then start going HAM.

These are exhibition matches. They won't be in sportbooks. Not until Jake Paul joins an actual boxing organization will he ever be anything more than a social media clown that does fights for money. Some dumb shit.

Hell no... he'll continue to fight athletes twice his age and try to cause chaos for the UFC. At this point, he's doing anything to stay relevant.

Such cringe. Business is business, let him get hit for a moneybag.

If I were an older fighter and wanted a nice payday, he would be the target to pick. He racks in a reasonable amount of PPV buys and I'm sure 70% are actually watching to see him get K.O.
