Who's all playing Dark and Darker and what do you think about the game so far?
It's in playtesting right now on Steam and I'm having the time of my life.

Feels like a great game and is actually fun compared to most of the games out right now.

If you have not played this game grab a group of friends and try this bad boy out!

I didn't know about the game requested access and got it but unfortunately the testing will stop in a few hours i think. So oh well hahah.
How has it been for you the gameplay and all ?

Game play is sick, loving everything about the game.
Not many complaints so far and I've put a good 40 hours in this week xD

Well it's not playable till Q4 2023.
It's expected release date. They do playtests, so watch for the playtests it is the only way to play before then.

I have seen it on steam, but sadly didnt played it yet.

Hope its halfway descent, games for the past years was pretty bad.
Im all in for calipso protocol.
