Same. I think Stanley is running wild! If I would of known it was possible to snag this award still I would of put in more effort.

-edit- Damn it's true. Carrot has the award.

Nostre - November 1, 2022, 1:58 pm

If this truly is a mistake, I would personally revoke the award and give some bytes to Carrots. Congratulations nonetheless.

Congrats Carrot! Whoop Whoop!

Carrot probably the only actual real true winner of the award simply because no one thought it was going to be awarded.

Thank you Stanley, I'd like to first of all thank Admin/Omni for this special opportunity to be crowned as the final MoTM (zeus was unworthy).

I'd also like to thank all my favourite users on HackForum (too many to list) you're all amazing so thank you for making HackForums the most wonderful and exciting place to spend my days.

I'd like to specially thank my mom and my dad for having sex 25 years ago, without that I wouldn't be here to accept this award and replace zeus as the final worthy MoTM.

Long Live HF.

I thought for a second that the MoTM awards were back, but I don't see it on the profile of Carrot, and I don't see it neither on the award page : <https://hackforums.net/myawards.php?awid=4>

SIM-3609092 - December 22, 2022, 10:28 am

After Carrot received MoTM, he was later closed which resets awards. That's why he doesn't have it anymore.

You're right. It was bumped by a user probably trying to make his 10 posts.

That's rough ... probably one of the hardest award to get and he lost it, I would kill myself haha, thanks for the heads up

Still a better recipient than you'd ever be. Let's all be honest.

Congrats Carrot

You earned your invisible award. MotM in our hearts.

Congrats Carrot if you get to keep the award.

Which version are you asking about? The original version under Reputation, or the newer version under Popularity?

Not sure, I haven't been around long enough to really see either one. I just imagine the entire idea would be incentivizing to contribute. But I suppose it's already been tried.
